Hopes Buoyed For Berlin Agreement

Nation's Chief Says Situation Encouraging

President Believes Soviets Act In Good Faith In Negotiations

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINTON, April 28 (AP)—President Truman buoyed hopes today for an early end to the East-West deadlock over Berlin, saying he believes the Soviets are acting in good faith in negotiations to lift the blockade.

He told a news conference he thinks the situation is encouraging.

Although the President did not go beyond those terse comments they contributed to a growing feeling of confidence here that the thorny Berlin crisis is rapidly nearing a solution.

Diplomatic authorities, however, interpreted Mr. Truman's remarks as basis for optimism only in regard to the blockade dispute. They indicated that if and when an agreement is worked out to lift the year-old transport barrier from the German capital it will then throw open the broader problems of Germany's future for consideration of the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council.

Ruhr Agreement Signed

As the Western Powers waited for Moscow to make the next move on the Berlin question, these were other developments:

1. Diplomats of six western nations signed an agreement in London setting up international control of Germany's rich Ruhr valley where its prized industries are centered. Russia, which wants a hand in the Ruhr control, was ignored in the new pact signed by representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

2. Warren Austin, chief United States delegate to the United Nations, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the North Atlantic defense pact is needed because Russia has "brazenly" violated its pledges to refrain from use of threats and force against other countries.

British Guard Locks

The Soviets had ordered lockkeepers to bar craft not having Russian registry. A showdown is due today.

Acheson Sees No Occupation Policy Change

Troops Will Remain In Germany Until Peace Is Assured

By JOHN R. HENRY

NEW YORK, April 28 (INS)—Secretary of State Acheson declared flatly tonight that American, British and French occupation forces will remain in Germany until the peace of Europe is assured.

Acheson made an up-to-date statement of American policy on Germany in an address at the annual dinner of the American Society of Newspaper Publishers.

He recited the conditions under which the United States will negotiate with Russia for a settlement of the German problem if the break this week in the East-West impasse leads to renewed "Big Four" discussions on Germany, as anticipated.

The Secretary declared that the people of Western Germany "may rest assured" that the United States will continue to develop the problem for a Western German republic until a satisfactory solution of the entire problem can be achieved with Russia.

But he made it clear that establishment of a German government "cannot at this time mean the end of the occupation of Germany." He added:

"If democratic self-government is to be introduced in Germany it must be given a chance to live. It cannot thrive if its powers are in question, or if it is subject to arbitrary intervention."

With regard to the renewed negotiations with Russia, Acheson said:

"Should it prove possible to arrange for renewed four-power discussions, this government will do its utmost, as it has in the past, to arrive at a settlement of what is plainly one of the most crucial problems in world affairs."

He emphasized, however, that "there are certain principles" which the United States regards as essential to "any satisfactory solution of the German problem."

He assured the people of Western Germany that the United States "will agree to no general solution for Germany into which the basic safeguards and benefits of the existing Western German arrangements would not be absorbed." He added:

"The people of Europe may rest assured that this government will agree to no arrangements concerning Germany which do not protect the security interests of the European community.

"The people of the United States may rest assured that in any discussions relating to the future of Germany, this government will have foremost in mind their deep desire for a peaceful and orderly solution of these weighty problems. . ."

13 Injured In Train Wreck

Mrs. Sarah Sharkley, 75, Mount Vernon, Wash., is carried on a stretcher after she was removed from a derailed car of the Pennsylvania Railroad's westbound Broadway Limited at Wayne, Ind., yesterday. Whip Cracking Denounced By Southerners

President Declares Votes On T-H Issue Party Loyalty Test

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Southern Democrats angrily accused President Truman today of putting a "patronage purchase tag" on congressional votes for the administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law.

In the House, a stormy row perceptibly widened the breach between Northern and Southern Democrats.

With spectators' galleries jampacked, Dixie lawmakers shouted their wrath against Mr. Truman's statement that Democratic votes on the Taft-Hartley issue will be regarded as a test of party loyalty.

At his press conference, Mr. Truman had indicated bluntly that senators and representatives who fail to vote for repeal of the two-year-old labor law will have little to say about federal patronage plums.

The presidential whip cracked where it hurt among southerners who have joined Republicans in fighting the administration's repeal measure in the three-day-old House debate over writing a new labor law.

Rankin Won't Be "Bluffed"

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) shouted: "This attempt to browbeat members of Congress into voting for vicious legislation is the most contemptible conduct I have ever known.

"I," the fiery Mississippian thundered into the loudspeaker microphone, "refuse to be bluffed."

Rep. Hebert (D-La.) raised the cry of "patronage purchase." He said Mr. Truman had been asked whether House votes on the Taft-Hartley dispute would have any effect on the handing out of patronage.

"The answer," Hebert said, "was in the affirmative. How you vote on this matter will determine whether you get jobs. Is your vote for sale for jobs?"

Republicans chuckled and cheered, jumping with glee at the strife within the Democratic camp.

Test Vote Still To Come

With the clash still going at full steam and tempers getting shorter by the minute, the House adjourned at 4:24 p. m. (E. D. T.) with the first test vote on the labor bill still to come.

The major test is expected tomorrow or possibly Saturday with a vote on a bill by Rep. Wood (D-

Banks' Reserve Requirements Slashed By $1,200,000,000

74 Perish In South Africa Train Wreck

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, April 28 (AP)—Three electric trains collided near here today and killed 74 persons in the worst railroad disaster in the history of the Union of South Africa. More than 90 persons were injured.

The three trains, all headed in the same direction, crashed into one another on a high embankment near Orlando in Natic Township, 10 miles from Johannesburg.

Eyewitnesses said passengers and pieces of wreckage were hurled high into the air. Screams of the injured and dying spurred the efforts of rescue workers to reach passengers trapped inside mangled coaches.

In one instance it took three hours to release three children caught in the splintered wood and metal.

Two of the trains were standing on the track when the third train came around a bend.

The moving train crashed into the rear of the first stationary train, ramming it into the one just ahead.

The two rear coaches of the train in the middle of the three-way crash were telescoped. A coach on the train farthest ahead on the line also telescoped into its leading motor unit. Forty passengers were crushed to death in this coach alone. The smashed coaches were reduced to matchwood.

Firemen with blow torches cut into the wreckage in rescue attempts. Thousands of natives from nearby Orlando rushed to the scene to search for bodies of relatives feared aboard.

Federal Board Action To Make More Money Available For Loans

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board tonight lowered the reserve requirements of its 7,000 member banks by $1,200,000,000, making more money available for lending.

This was the fourth step taken by the board in two months to combat developing deflationary forces as reflected in lowered prices, production, sales and employment.

The lowered requirements will become effective next week.

The reduction in the amounts that various classes of banks must turn over to the federal reserve banks as reserves—thereby freezing them out of the lending stream—was as follows:

New York and Chicago banks—The proportion of checking account deposits which must be kept in reserve is cut from 26 per cent to 24, effective May 5; the proportion of savings deposits required to be held as reserve is reduced from 7½ per cent to seven, also effective May 5.

"Reserve" banks (those in large cities other than New York and Chicago)—Checking account reserves cut from 22 to 21 per cent, effective May 5; savings reserves reduced from 7½ to seven per cent, also effective May 5.

"County" banks—Checking account reserves reduced from 16 to 15 per cent, effective May 1; saving reserves from 7½ to seven per cent, effective May 1.

In recent actions the reserve board has taken these other steps to buoy up the economy: Twice relaxed controls over installment credit, and also made it easier to buy stocks by lowering the margin—or down payment—requirements to 50 per cent.

Today's action to make it easier for the banks to lend, came after the sharpest and fastest decline in business loans on record—a contraction estimated by the board at approximately $1,500,000,000 since the start of this year.

The amount by which required reserves was lowered was almost as much as the amount business loans have plunged in the four elapsed months of 1949.

Russian Quits U.N. Secretariat

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Russia's ranking man in the United Nations administration, Assistant Secretary-General Arkady A. Sobolev, resigned today to rejoin the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow.

This shift may be tied in some way to the Soviet moves toward settling the Berlin blockade quarrel with the United States, France and Britain.

Sobolev is regarded in some western circles as an advocate of closer relations with the Western Powers. He was known here as a jovial man with a keen wit and a sharp mind.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie announced the resignation, which had been expected since Sobolev suddenly went back to Moscow January 21. Lie said the reason was ill health in Sobolev's family. His wife and son are reported ill.

After consulting with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Lie appointed Konstantin Zinchenko to succeed Sobolev.

Notes From "Planted" FBI Report Found In Judith Coplon's Purse

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — The government said today that notes from a "planted" FBI report—a deliberate fake — were found in the purse of 27-year-old Judith Coplon when she was seized with her alleged Russian sweetheart last March 4.

Miss Coplon, a former Justice Department employe, is on trial for espionage conspiracy. If convicted, she would face a maximum sentence of 26 years in prison and $24,000 fine.

Assistant Attorney General Raymond P. Whearty told the jury in Federal Court that the memorandum used as bait to trap Miss Coplon was prepared by FBI Director J Edgar Hoover.

Whearty's disclosure's in his opening statement came after Judge Albert L. Reeves rejected four separate defense bids to scuttle the government's case.

In rapid succession, Judge Reeves denied defense motions:

1. To suppress papers seized from Miss Coplon's handbag when she was arrested with Valentine A. Gubitchev, 32, a former Soviet employe of the United Nations, on a Third Avenue "E" platform in New York. FBI agents admittedly made the arrest without a warrant.

2. To quash the Washington indictment. (Both Miss Coplon and Gubitchev are under a separate espionage conspiracy indictment in New York and face trial there later.)

3. To expunge from the record an affidavit by New York FBI Chief Robert R. Granville. This charged that among Miss Coplon's papers was a statement describing her failure to filch a "top secret FBI report" summarizing Soviet spy activities.

4. To declare a mistrial.

Truman Says Marine Corps Here To Stay

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—President Truman sought to chase away the Marine Corps' two-year nightmare today: He said there is not foundation for fears that the corps might be eliminated.

Then the Senate Armed Services Committee joined in with a tentative vote to bar any actual merger of the armed forces.

Secretary of Defense Johnson said there is no move afoot in the national military establishment to transfer marine and naval aviation to the Air Force. It couldn't be done under present law anyway, he noted.

Fleming Will Head Maritime Commission

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, a former Army engineer, was chosen by President Truman today to head the United States Maritime Commission.

Then, in the familiar Washington pattern of the game of musical chairs, the President announced that:

Jess Larson, war assets administrator, will succeed Fleming as administrator of the Federal Works Agency.

Rear Adm. Paul Luker Mather, assistant to Larson, will become war assets administrator.

Ambush Killers Of 12 Are Sought In Philippines

Widow Of Islands' First President Slain

MANILA, Friday, April 29 (AP) — Mrs. Aurora Quezon, widow of the Philippines' first President, was among 12 persons killed yesterday in an ambush that may have been aimed at President Elpidio Quirino.

The dead included Mrs. Quezon's unmarried daughter, Maria Aurora, 33, and her son-in-law, Felipe Buencamino III, 28.

Machine gunners riddled the Quezon car on a lonely mountain road 88 miles by air northeast of Manila. Ten persons were wounded.

President Quirino, at the summer capital in Baguio, declared he believed the killers were simply bandits.

Manila newspapers, however, suggested that it may have been a trap by the Communist-led Hukbalahaps intended to slaughter Quirino himself.

Quirino had been invited to accompany the Quezon party on a trip to Baler to unveil a memorial to the late President Manuel Quezon, but had sent word at the last minute that he could not go.

It had been well know that Mrs. Quezon and a party of high officials would make the motor trip Thursday. This added to the impression that the attack was premeditated.

The Manila Times reported that before the Quezon party was ambushed, 30 trucks on the road several kilometers east were held up, apparently to prevent them blundering into the trap.

President Quirino ordered a full-scale campaign against the killers by the army and constabulary.

The Quezon party of 12 cars, including constabulary guards, left Manila at 5:30 a. m. for Baler, seat of the province named for the late President Quezon.

The station wagon occupied by Mrs. Quezon, 60, her relatives and Maj. Gen. Rafael Jalondoni, former chief of staff of the Philippines, was traveling ahead to avoid the choking dust.

Strike Of 6,000 Ford Workers Is Okayed By Union

DETROIT, April 28 (AP) — A strike of 6,000 workers at Ford's Lincoln-Mercury plant was given official union sanction today to start May 5.

At the same time, however, the CIO United Auto Workers Executive Board told another 60,000 Ford employes at the giant Rouge plant to hold back. It said it wanted to investigate speedup charges there similar to those it said it had confirmed at Lincoln-Mercury.

The board assigned a top-level team headed by UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey to look into the Rouge plant situation tomorrow. President Walter Reuther said strike action would be authorized at Rouge "very quickly" if the local union speedup charges are substantiated.

Economy Bloc Scores In Senate

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Economy forces grabbed the reins in the Senate today and sent the $2,400,000,000 labor-federal security appropriation back to committee to be cut.

The upset roll call came on a motion by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) who pleaded with the Senate to establish a "general pattern" of spending cuts lest higher taxes "destroy the free enterprise system."

Eight Democrats joined with a solid front of Republicans in the majority to make the count 44 to 37.

The bill to finance the Labor Department and the security agency for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was the first regular appropriation measure to come up in the Senate this session. Taft and other backers of reductions told their colleagues they should start with the first such measure and cut them all as they come to them.

The GOP Policy Committee chairman argued for a five per cent cut about $15,497,888 — in the funds provided for administrative costs in the measure under consideration. He said he wished it could be 10 per cent. And he made it specific that he wanted 10 per cent out of the appropriation for the recently authorized $5,500,000,000 extension of the Marshall Plan.

Navy Still Will Aid Americans In Shanghai

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — President Truman said today the Navy is fully prepared to aid Americans in Shankhai although United States warships have moved out of range of Communists guns.

There is no truth to reports that the Navy has run out on American civilians, he declared solemnly at his news conference.

Two hours later he discussed the darkening Far Eastern situation with Republican Sen. Bridges, of New Hampshire, and Wherry of Nebraska.

Reds Advancing Toward Shanghai At Cautious Pace

Evacuation Gate Is Slowly Closing

SHANGHAI, April 28 (AP)—Three Communist spearheads were moving towards Shanghai and the Hangchow sector tonight, but at a cautious pace.

Best available reports through the Nationalist garrison command said a column of about 4,000 Red troops was edging towards Shanghai from Soochow (Wuhsien) on the west and was about 40 miles east of this great city.

Communist activity of unspecified nature was reported from Weitung, 40 miles west of Shanghai, but the village of Chenyi, three miles nearer Shanghai, reported no Communists yet seen there.

A somewhat smaller Communist column was reported following the railway southeast from Soochow towards Kashing, 40 miles from Soochow. Kashing, a railway junction point 62 miles southwest of Shanghai, is the key to Hangchow, 59 miles farther southwest.

The third Communist force, of unknown size, was moving overland towards Kashing from the east and was last reported about 30 miles away.

Once Kashing falls, Shanghai will be sealed off by land. Trains still were operating to Hangchow via Kashing during the afternoon.

The Communists took Soochow early Wednesday, so their advance (no more than 10 miles) since then has been slow.

It appeared that they were taking their time towards Shanghai in particular, possibly because they want an adequate occupation force when they enter.

The evacuation gate from this threatened city was slowly closing.

New York Big 4 Meeting Likely

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP) — A Western Power spokesman said today a Big Four conference on the Berlin question may be called in New York soon.

United States, British, French and Russian delegates to the United Nations would probably attend to carry talks a step forward, he said.

"Such a conference is certainly a possibility," he told reporters at the United Nations Assembly hall in Flushing Meadow Park.

It would come, if at all, after Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakos A. Malik receives new instructions from Moscow.

Malik met yesterday with United States Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup and received a message asking specifically what were Russia's intentions on lifting the Berlin blockade.

Truman's Economic Aides Peddle "Propaganda," Republicans Say

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Republican members of a Senate-House committee tonight accused President Truman's economic advisory council of peddling "political propaganda" in support of his ideas for a stable economy.

The GOP minority of the joint economic committee fired the charge in a report assailing Mr. Truman's general stabilization program. That program presented in January among other things, calls for a $4,000,000,000 tax boost and for standby authority to restore wage and price controls on a limited basis.

"We reject the basic philosophy of the President's economic report which, in effect, recommends that we set up in this country a planned and controlled economy and increase taxation for that purpose," the Republican group declared, adding:

"We see no immediate evidence of further serious inflation."

The GOP Congress members outlined a substitute eight-point program topped by a demand for a cut in federal spending "so that there may be no necessity for an increase in taxation," and even a "reduction in the tremendous burden of taxation if the international situation improves."

Last month the Democrats on the joint committee brought out a report which generally endorsed the President's economic program but recommended further study of his tax boost proposal.

Most of Mr. Truman's program is on the shelf in both the Senate and the House. There is no present indication of any action on much of it.

These Republicans signed today's minority report: Sen. Taft (Ohio), Flanders (Vt), Watkins, and Reps. Wolcott (Mich), Rich (Pa) and Herter (Mass)

Hell-Raising Taboo As Norway's Far North Builds Better Future

By DANIEL De LUCE

HAMMERFEST, Norway, April 28 The blood-and-thunder Arctic has gone softie.

Pioneer hearts still beat strongly in the far north, but hell-raising adventure is taboo.

Ex-roughnecks help wash the family diapers, and learn to croon lullabies. When steamers come up from the south, their most sought-after cargoes are baby carriages.

You wet your thirst with soda pop, kickless beer, or tea. No hard liquor is on public sale.

Community dances are as orderly as a church service, and just as heavily chaperoned. There are pretty girls to meet, but you need a formal introduction and an okay from papa.

Within the Arctic Circle lies nearly half of Norway. Life here has been very rugged since the war. But not rowdy.

The jagged seacoast is dotted with little wooden settlements which were burned to ashes by the German army five years ago. Now they are rising again.

Once more, brawny Norwegian pioneers are working the fisheries, sealing, whaling, mines and timber. Nobody is rich, but nobody must live on charity.

Hammerfest, population 3,000 claims to be the nearest town in the world to the North Pole and is located close to latitude 71 degrees. It was a black waste in 1944. It now leads all other Arctic communities in reconstruction.

This recovery drive hasn't captured world headlines, like that of Britain or the Ruhr. Yet in its way, it is dramatic.

For two months in the winter, the sun never shines here. For two months in the summer, it never sets. Rebuilding goes on continually, despite these solar habits.

All day long, you can hear dynamite squads blasting the Arctic rock for foundations of new concrete and steel buildings to replace postwar shanties.

New piers are being driven in the frosty waters of the harbor. Town planning is a popular craze.

You won't find the item in economic statistics, but the real bonanza in the Norwegian far north is babies.

You see them everywhere: Clustered around a magazine stand, laughing at the latest American-drawn comics; skiing and sledding down the slopes which grace the fiords; waving gayly at strangers, awed that mere children could be out playing hour after hour in below-zero cold.

It's a safe bet that the younger generation will be healthier and handsomer than their parents. And, perhaps, happier.

Maybe by the time they're grown up, the cold war will have been put away in mothballs. But you can understand why Norwegian Arctic folk, regardless of the cold war, are working so hard to build a better future.

The future belongs to their children.

SLAIN IN AMBUSH—Felipe Buencamino III (above), husband of Zenaida Quezon, daughter of the late Manuel Quezon, first president of the Philippines, was among the 10 persons slain in an ambush in the mountains of northern Luzon. Plane Reseeding Program Fails

TUCSON, Ariz.—(AP)—Reseeding barren lands by airplane in Arizona has not been successful, government officials state.

They say billions of seeds sprayed from the air in pellets have failed to produce hoped-for growths of grass. In one of the experiments not a single specimen of the grass sown could be found. In another, "the results cannot be considered even partially satisfactory."

A report on airplane pellet seeding on four Indian reservations in Arizona has been prepared by Joe A. Wagner, range supervisor of the Papago Indian agency at Sells, Ariz. It was presented to the southwestern section, society of American foresters, in Tucson.

A total of 90,000 acres on the reservations were seeded. They were the Navajo in northeastern Arizona and northwestern New Mexico; Hopi, in northeastern Arizona; Papago in the south central; and San Carlos in east central Arizona.

The pellets were made of clay from the ground to be treated, seed, rodent-insect repellent and growth promoting chemicals. It was hoped the force of the pellets striking the ground would cause them to become imbedded. It didn't. Penetration was practically nil, Wagner said.

Ten thousand acres of Papago land were covered. The amount of moisture and distribution was very favorable during the following summer. Between 175,000 to 250,000 Lehmann lovegrass seeds per acre were planted. The average growth was only 75 plants per acre, the range supervisor says.

It is felt, however, that it is still too early to make final predictions on the outcome of the bulk of the work done on the Navajo reservation.

C Of C Wins Fire Award

KEYSER, W. Va.—A "participation award" was earned by the Keyser-Mineral County Chamber of Commerce for their part in the 1948 Inter-Chamber National Fire Waste Contest, according to Chester J. Compton, executive secretary.

The award is given in recognition of community service in fire prevention and conservation activities during the past year, Compton explained, adding that a report of the activities of the local group was made by the Chamber's fire prevention committee, headed by Charles Vossler.

Assisting with the work was Chief Horace Clark of the Vigilant Reel and Hose Company. Other members of the committee are Jacob Shear, Elmer J. Hartman and Richard J. Herndon.

Keyser Man Fined In Assault Case

KEYSER, W. Va.—Stanuel Bosley, Keyser, arrested by City Police on a charge of assault and battery on his niece, Delphia Swick, also of Keyser, was fined $5 and costs when arraigned before Justice of the Peace A. A. Hood.

Also appearing before Justice Hood was Raymond Hoffman, Keyser, charged with burning brush without a permit. Hoffman was fined $20 and costs. The charge was preferred by Conservation Officer Claude A. Rice after Hoffman failed to extinguish a fire.

Jury Upholds Appeal Of Westernport Man

KEYSER, W. Va.—Criminal trials in Mineral County Circuit Court ended Wednesday with the appeal case of Odis David Paugh, Westernport, who was charged with failing to keep to the right of the road when meeting traffic last February 23, following a collision with a cattle truck.

A not guilty verdict was returned by the jury. Paugh was represented by Attorney H. G. Shores.

Paugh was found guilty of the charge preferred by State Police when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle February 28, and fined $10 and costs.

An Opportunity That Comes But Once A Year

If property owners are following suggestions of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce this week, Cumberland will be a vastly more spic and span city by next Sunday night. The Jaycees, who are sponsoring Clean-Up Week again this year, have urged people to spruce up their homes with a new coat of paint and to make repairs so as to remove unsightly marks. But the clean-up extends beyond the home itself. Everybody is expected to spruce up gardens and those who own vacant lots are asked to make an onslaught on weeds and whatever rubbish has been depoisted in them during Winter months.

Most Cumberlanders keep their property in apple pie order. But even the most meticulous overlook a few items. They have attics, basements or closets packed with useless junk. They have neglected to clean old leaves and paper that have collected around the hedge or flowering and non-flowering shrubbery.

Clean-Up Week is a time to do such jobs. It is also an incentive to keep up the same activity throughout the year. Commissioner of Streets and Public Property Edgar Reynolds is lending a hand to the Jaycees and to seeing to it that public parks get their Spring tidying-up in preparation for plantings of annuals to give color to the areas. It sets a good example for others to follow in order to erase otherwise dingy-looking spots. It is an object lesson of what can happen when things receive such attention.

In this crusade toward making the community cleaner more attractive and more healthful, the Jaycees are going to see to it that all the useless items now cluttering up basements, attics and gardens are taken off the hands of the cleaner-uppers. Arrangements have been made to send trucks over the city this Sunday morning to pick up the rubbish and trash. But it will be necessary to have all the throw-away items stacked at the curb before 7:30 o'clock in the morning. Failure to do this will mean that you will have to harbor the stuff for another year or go the expense of having it hauled away.

Secretary Johnson's Decision Disturbing One

Louis A. Johnson has made his first important decision as Secretary of Defense, and it is a disturbing one. He has abruptly ended a long and bitter controversy between the Navy and the Air Force by halting construction of the new 65,000-ton aircraft carrier "United States," which was designed to launch atomic bombing planes on strategic missions.

The tight-lipped Johnson did not explain his reasons. It has been argued that the super-carrier would eventually have cost several times its estimated price of $189,000,000; that, while bombers would take off from its broad flight deck, they would not land there; that it could not get through the Panama Canal, etc. But it is clear from all the circumstances that Secretary Johnson decided against the "United States" because it would have "invaded" the strategic bombing field which the Air Force claims for its own. This is not the first time that Johnson has sided with the aerial enthusiasts.

The aerial view is that only land-based planes can be entrusted with strategic bombing missions. In its extreme form, as represented by Chairman Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee, this school claims that land-based superbombers could take off from the United States, without accompanying fighters, soar non-stop to Russia with a cargo of atomic bombs and return home, intact. We doubt that General Vandenberg cherishes any such schoolboy notion but some of his subordinates do, and the dream of "victory in three weeks" through an atomic blitzkrieg has mesmerized a number of members of Congress.

This ignores completely the findings of the official U. S. Strategic Bombing Survey after the last war, which revealed that area bombing was not nearly so effective as was popularly supposed at the time. It also ignores the superior progress made by the Russians in the development of jet fighters. It is an exceedingly dangerous delusion for any country to cherish. Yet the decision of Secretary Johnson will encourage that school of what passes for thought in the vital field of national defense.

On The 50th Anniversary Of "The Man With The Hoe"

If Edwin Markham were alive today he would have the enjoyment and the satisfaction of seeing the Edwin Markham Memorial Society commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of his great poem, "The Man With the Hoe."

There is passion in it, and there are questions. Looking at brutalized toilers, symbolized by Millet's painting, Markham cried that the "masters, lords and rulers in all lands" could not wash their hands of responsibility for the Man With the Hoe.

How, he asked, did they propose to undo the wrong they had done him? And what would happen in the "whirlwinds of rebellion" when he rose to claim his birthright?

"How will it be with kingdoms and with kings—
With those who shaped him to the thing he is—
When this dumb Terror shall rise to judge the world
After the silence of the centuries?"

The answers to those questions are clearer now than they were when Markham wrote. The "masters, lords and rulers" have made the brutalized worker obsolescent in some countries by raising the standard of living. And in large areas like Russia and China we are seeing "this dumb Terror rise to judge the world."

The sight is as frightening as Markham imagined it would be. In its excesses, the Man With the Hoe is coming under the sway of new "masters, lords and rulers" who speak in his name and exploit him as ruthlessly as ever.

So Markham's implied moral stands. Unless those who have the power prevent brutalization of the working man, he will rise against them in whirlwinds of rebellion. Conversely, if they use their power to make a better life possible to him, he will be neither dangerous nor brutish. American capitalism has taken that course and because it did so this nation has escaped the misery and degradation of large areas of the world.

The Atlantic alliance, in which the world is to be protected from Russia, runs true to form in one respect. Uncle Sam will pick up the check.

Vitamin E in Heart Disease

IS VITAMIN E (tocopherol) good for heart disease? For the last few years we have been asked this question repeatedly as a result of the publicity given a group of Canadian physicians who announced that the vitamin was a cure-all in a number of cardiac conditions. Most Physicians were skeptical but maintained an open mind until the results could be confirmed. No alarm was felt because the only harm that would follow the use of the preparation was the raising of false hopes.

The claims of the original workers were based on too much subjectives and to little objective evidence. In other words, if a patient states that he feels better for the moment, this does not prove that leaky valves have mended, coronary arteries have become less sclerotic, an enlarged pumping organ has decreased in size, or that the heart muscle has become stronger. Evidence to demonstrate these points was lacking in the majority of instances.

At any rate, reports are begining to trickle in from our larger medical centers, where vitamin E has been investigated thoroughly. The conclusion is that the compound is of no benefit in heart disease. This evaluation is in keeping with the round table discussions of many heart specialists who tried the product and discontinued its use when it failed to do any good.

Drs. Iver S. Ravin and Kermit H. Katz, of the Boston University School of Medicine, gave vitamin E —in doses comparable to those recommended by the Canadian men—to 11 proved cases of angina pectoris. These individuals had been bothered for from one to 10 years with chest pain due to heart disease caused by hardening of the arteries or high blood pressure. The patients had been subjected to all of the usual heart tests including electrocardiograms and X-rays. Since anginal pain came after exercise, the subjects were asked to walk up and down steps, especially constructed in the laboratory, to determine how much exertion was required to bring on discomfort. The drug was then started and the treatment period ranged from four to 24 weeks. Only one of the series felt that there was any improvement. One thought he was worse and the remainder could notice no difference. The heart tests were then repeated and no change for the better could be demonstrated.

Another group of physicians at Duke University School of Medicine came to the same conclusion after trying vitamin E on 21 victims of heart trouble. These patients took the medicine for from five to 20 months "with no appreciable benefit either subjectively or objectively." As a further check, the physicians sometimes substituted capsules that looked like those with vitamin E but actually they contained inert matter. The patients did not know when they were receiving the real McCoy or the placebo. It made little difference, however, because the effect was the same.

A vitamin E deficiency is almost impossible to develop because the substance is found in practically all plants especially the germ of cereal grains and the green leafy vegetables. Any one who eats natural foods, therefore, will obtain an ample amount in the diet.

Variable

J. K. writes: How much penicillin can a person take before becoming sensitive to it?

REPLY

This varies with the individual. Some are sensitive to the first injection; others have taken millions of units without being bothered.

Inflamed Eye Membranes

H. T. writes: Could conjunctivitis be due to allergy?

REPLY

Yes and frequently is. If the offending agent cannot be found, temporary relief may be obtained by using one of the antihistaminic drugs.

Weight And Thyroid

Mrs. D. M. writes: In the case of underweight caused by an overactive thyroid, what would you suggest?

REPLY

When the thyroid condition is rectified, the weight will take care of itself.

Shock After Operation

J. T. writes: What causes a person to go into shock after surgery?

REPLY

The condition may result from any number of factors or combinations thereof. These include excessive blood loss, injury to the tissues, the anesthetic, and perhaps dehydration. Since the advent of beter care before surgery, improvements in technic, and the use of intravenous fluids and plasmas, shock has been reduced to a minimum.

Don't Be Alarmed

Mrs. L. writes: When I put my 8 month infant in her crib her eyes roll around occasionally. She seems normal in every other way. Do you think this condition is serious?

REPLY

No, and your story is not unusual. It might well be that the baby is frightened or is exercising her eyes by looking about, trying to find a familiar object. Infants of this age have not developed sight comparable to that of adults; this begins during the second year and is completed by the fourth.

Farmers Will Resent Power Truster As Secretary Of The Army; Russians Are Flabbergasted At Berlin Airlift; Battle Rages Over Whisky Barrels

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—While it's difficult to get the right men to fill top Government jobs, the proposed appointment of Curtis Calder, head of Electric Bond and Share, as Secretary of the Army is going to cause a lot of eyebrow-lifting among farmers.

In the first place, Electric Bond and Share was one of the power trusters whose abuses led to passage of the Holding Corporation Act; and the records of the Federal Trade Commission regarding its operations make juicy reading.

Second, and more recently, Electric Bond and Share has been one of the most effective and ruthless members of the power-trust gang in fighting the Government's program for public power and rural electrification.

Nevertheless, it is now proposed to take the head of this giant corporation which has bitterly opposed the Government, and embrace him in the bosom of the government as policy-maker, among others, for the Army engineers—which build the multipurpose dams for the Government.

"To put Calder in this job," says the Rural Electric Cooperative, "would be about the same as making Ham Moses, of Arkansas Power and Light, the Secretary of the Army." Moses is the power executive who once gave nylon stockings to the wives of Congressmen he wanted to vote against public power.

Background Re Germany

On the foreign front, Calder's connections are also important. One of the Army's most vital jobs pertains to Germany. That country, from which sprang two great wars, may hold the key to future wars, and the Cabinet officers who make decisions regarding Germany must be impartial.

Mr. Calder, however, is a director of the United States and Foreign Securities Corp., and the United States and International Securities Corp., both organized by Dillon, Read and Co., for the purpose of financing public utilities in Germany before the war.

The Dillon, Read group has always believed in building up Germany and, despite the mistake of having financed what eventually became part of Hitler's war machine, this group has continued to support German cartels. An official report is now before the Army Department criticising ex-Undersecretary of the Army William Draper, another Dillon, Read executive, for rebuilding cartels since the war.

James Forrestal, ex-Secretary of National Defense and former head of Dillon, Read, is also in this group. And it was one of the companies of which Mr. Calder is director—U. S. and Foreign Securities—which caused Forrestal great embarrassment. For a Senate committee revealed the fact that he had made a profit of $865,000 by selling his holdings in this corporation in 1929 and had avoided paying income tax on the $865,000 by creation of a family holding corporation in Canada.

Capable as Mr. Calder may be as a business executive, his corporate background is not going to inspire confidence among the two million men who would serve under him in the U. S. Army.

Capital News Capsules

Confusing the Russians—on Easter Sunday, the Soviet officer attached to the U. S. Air Safety Center at Tempelhof Airdrome, Berlin, watched 13,000 tons of goods landed by U. S. airplanes in a single day—a landing or take off every thirty seconds. Before the Berlin blockade, the total flow of goods into Berlin from the Western zones by rail, barge and truck—all three put together—was not more than 11,000 tons a day.

Shrugging his shoulders at the amazing performance of U. S. air freight carriers, the Russian officer walked out in despair. He said he could no longer follow, much less record, the speed and complexity of the American flight pattern. No wonder Russia is now ready to lift the blockade.

Battle of whiskey barrels—Seton Porter, president of National Distillers, one of the most powerful members of the whiskey combine, has been lobbying to block a Treasury declaration that whiskey aged in second-hand barrels is just as good as whiskey aged in new barrels. The Treasury contends there is no difference between new and second-hand barrels in the aging of whiskey, but Seton Porter, a heavy contributor to the Democratic National Committee (after the election), rushed in, pounded on Treasury desks and demanded that the ruling be reconsidered. Mr. Porter stands to lose money if the Treasury sticks to its original position favoring second-hand barrels.

Farm battle—A furious battle has broken out between the Farm Bureau and the Agriculture Department. The first salvo was fired by Allan Kline, head of the Farm Bureau, who protested angrily because he wasn't consulted about Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's new farm program. Defiantly, Kline ordered his state organizations to oppose the program, later made the strange declaration that the program offered the farmers too much money. . . . Brannan will now carry his case against Kline direct to the farmers, who are beginning to wonder just who Kline is supposed to represent.

Battle Over Wallgren

The Administration charges that Senate Republicans stampeded Democratic procedure by bottling the nomination of Mon Wallgren up in the Armed Services Committee, don't coincide with the inside facts.

What Democratic Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland, the Committee Chairman, didn't tell the press was that GOP Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon was ready to cast the deciding vote for floor action, but Tydings missed the boat.

After GOP Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota moved to table Wallgren's nomination as Chairman of the National Security Resources Board, Morse asserted behind closed doors that while he was personally fond of Wallgren he didn't think he was competent enough to head up the NSRB "because of some appointments he made while Governor of Washington."

However, Morse added, if someone offered a substitute motion (to Gurney's) to report the nomination "unfavorably"—that is, with a recommendation against confirmation—he would vote for it. This would have given the full Senate a chance to debate the issue openly, instead of having Wallgren's name bottled up in the committee by the present vote to table.

Morse's vote would have carried. However, Tydings and his Democratic colleagues wouldn't play ball, with the result that Gurney's motion to table carried.

That is why Wallgren's confirmation can't be debated on the Senate floor, where the final vote probably would be for him.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—Some people in the news:

Howard Young, the art dealer who is a friend of Dwight Eisenhower, began feeling sorry for the General a month ago. Young was in balmy Miami and his distinguished friend was working in the frozen north.

So Young sent the General a case of Florida oranges and grapefruit. While it was en route, Eisenhower abruptly took off for Key West to recuperate from overwork and an old leg injury. The box of fruit followed him and finally arrived, somewhat the worse for wear, one day as Ike was sitting under the Florida sun, admiring his neighboring orange and grapefruit trees.

Bob Hope and his air-borne troubadors raced through Washington, D. C., a few hours ago, gave two shows, met a few hundred friends, signed a few thousand autographs and barely had time to call at the Bureau of Internal Revenue and ask, "How much?"

Hope has given 19 shows in the past 11 days and will play his way home to Hollywood via Providence, Erie, Columbus, O., and Fort Smith.

He hasn't told his troupe yet, but he is planning a tour of larger cities later in the year, including a performance at Madison Square Garden. At almost every stop his DC-6 makes, he finds his way to a Vets hospital if one is remotely in the area. Hope has been seen by more service men than perhaps the whole roster of U. S. generals and admirals.

"He's one third Indian medicine man, one third gypsy and one third homing pigeon," his friend Bing Crosby said recently. "The last is regrettable. That means he always comes home and we're stuck with him."

Herbert Hoover, the only living ex-President (outside of Tom Dewey, of course) dropped by the Banshee luncheon for U. S. publishers the other day only to have a bite to eat and say hello to some old friends. He said, at the beginning, that he had to leave by 1:30.

His hosts urged him to stay on, and read him a list of the entertainment acts that were to follow the luncheon. He shook his head regretfully. Then they mentioned that the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes — all of them — would dance.

That clinched it. He stayed for the last precision kick of that remarkable line of girls—making their first "outside" appearance since their trip to Paris a decade ago. Like the rest of us, the ex-President couldn't resist the chance of seeing a Rockette up close.

Speaking of taxes, as we seem to have been lately, Bugs Baer once upon a time got a sharp note from the collector of internal revenue. He didn't like either its tone or contents. So he wrote back:

"Dear slur: Yours of the 14th instant received and dully noted . . ."

James K. McGuinness, the Hollywood executive, is in New York for a time, catching up on the shows and meeting a lot of people he used to know and write about when he did a column for the old New York Post.

Jim was remembering a Jimmy Walker story. In the early 1920's Walker became a silent partner with the late Jimmy Johnston in the promotion of fights in New York. Walker and McGuinness were good friends so Walker casually mentioned one day that he was cutting McGuinness in on the venture.

McGuinness laughingly told his friend that he was a newspaper man, not a silent or audible promoter. And forgot about it. But Walker remembered. A year later McGuinness was called to a New York office and handed a check for $24,000,—his "share" of the profits.

"Twenty four dollars was a pretty good mound of money for me at that time, and two hundred and forty would have been very hard to scrape together," McGuinness remembered. "But twenty four thousand was something I just couldn't comprehent. So, with terrible misgivings, I turned it down . . . But I had this much consolation in later years: I could sleep well."

Arthur Hays Sulzberger, of the Times, gave a garden party for visiting publishers and editors this week at his Westchester estate. At the height of the party, the guests of the Times were startled to see a helicopter settling upon them with a whirring roar.

It alighted on the New York publisher's lawn, and out of the contraption—plainly marked with the name of his paper—stepped Col. R. R. McCormick, of Chicago. It set a new intersectional record for the "dropping in" of a guest.

Paul Makushak, the odd character who recently was pried out of the Brooklyn cubby-hole in which he has lived, sealed, for ten years, looked around in the light of day and sourly pronounced the modern world, "no good."

He may have something there. But he ain't helping it none, as we used to say in Swamp Poodle. Back in your closet, Buster, you're scaring the children.

So many Communists are turning out to be FBI spies recently that the party will soon be forced to hold a "disloyalty" hearing. In the meantime we have a new twist in the English language — a double-double crosser. And hurry.

Morale Of Navy, Marine Corps Officers Is Impaired

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 28 — The morale of the officers of the United States Navy and Marine Corps has been seriously impaired.

Naval aviators, hitherto looking forward to a career of continuing progress in the whole field of aviation, are discouraged.

High-ranking officers of the Marine Corps are worried.

Officers of the Navy itself are so deeply concerned that they fear to talk to civilians lest the "gag" order result in a penalty for them.

On the whole, never in the memory of this correspondent has any armed service received such a devastating blow as that administered by President Truman and Secretary of Defense Johnson when the whole technological program of the Navy was, in effect, frustrated by the decision to permit the Navy to develop only those weapons which the Army and the Air Force allow them to develop.

The resignation of the secretary of the Navy, John L. Sullivan, has had repercussions on every side—in the Armed Services and on Capitol Hill. What Mr. Sullivan said confirmed the statement in these dispatches on Monday to the effect that neither the Secretary of the Navy nor Admiral Denfield, chief of naval operations, was consulted when Secretary Johnson abruptly ordered construction stopped on the super-carrier.

Johnson's Blunder Admited

It now is generally admitted that Mr. Johnson blundered in his method of handling so delicate a problem. But nothing has been done to repair the damage. No apology for the discourtesy shown to the Chief of Naval Operations has been made. All through the Navy it will be wondered whether its top officer has anything to say any more in government councils and whether, in order to get along with the Secretary of Defense, he must be a "yes" man and abandon all that he learned about naval weapons in World War II.

Congress has among its many members those who want to see the whole matter investigated. If ever there was an occasion for a congressional investigation, it is today when an iron curtain has been drawn and the public has been prevented from knowing why the Navy was so insistent on building a super-carrier—even sacrificing other parts of its construction program to get the carrier built.

Will Of Congress Ignored

But what is even more important is that Congress has been told, in effect, that authorizations and even appropriations do not mean that the will of the national legislature is to be obeyed.

Thus a 70-group Air Force has been authorized by Congress, but apparently by a stroke of the pen of the Secretary of Defense that program can be abandoned overnight.

It all adds up to the fact that in the passion for centralizing power in the hands of one man—the Secretary of Defense—the traditional reliance on the collaboration of all armed services has been swept aside.

It never was intended that a civilian secretary of defense should tell military or naval men what weapons they should develop. It never was intended that the Chief of Naval Operations should be a figurehead or a "rubber stamp," who would not be consulted when a matter so vital to his service was under consideration.

The incident illustrates the danger of putting complete power in one cabinet officer. President Truman is supposed to be commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy. But he doesn't perform those duties except in a perfunctory way. He had twice approved the building of the super-carier. Nothing has happened in the interim to change the basic philosophy behind the carier program. It is being said that Mr. Truman is putty in the hands of his own cabinet officers and that he doesn't have the time or the inclination to go deeply into important matters. That may account for the reversal of his own decision. He, too, didn't ask any advice from the top men in the Navy.

More On China Aid

I AM STILL trying to get the simple arithmetic on China aid. The editors who asked me questions seem to be of the impression that Secretary of State Dean Acheson's figures on China aid had gone up to $3,000,000,000 — off the record.

But I can find no authentication for that grandiose figure, which may have been an off-the-cuff expression as well as an off-the-record statement. Of course, I have no copy of what Mr. Acheson actually said off-the-record, but I am putting together all the astonishing gossip I have heard about it, meanwhile grappling with available figures which are so garbled as to require a congressional investigation.

In a previous article, I took the figure $1,000,300,000, which is supposed to be for military aid to China, and analyzing it from the scant and unprecise data made available to us by our government, I reached the conclusion that up to the space allotted me for that column, the amount really came to $305,600,000.

Now there is an item, to which I have not previously referred, of $142,900,000 representing the transfer of United States naval vessels to China — mostly obsolescent landing craft of no combat value, certainly of no value in fighting Communists. It may be recalled that we presented vessels to some of the Europeans, but we actually charged the Chinese "construction costs" for these vessels — constructed in wartime.

It might be interesting for a congressional committee to enter into the question of how the State Department computes charges — top charges for some countries; ten cents on the dollar for other countries. In a word, if they want to show big aid, they charge more; If they want to show little aid, they charge less. They can make the indebtedness look like anything.

Now the Chinese did get those mostly adolescent naval vessels and I can't deduct the full amount from the high total figure. So what do you say to charging the Chinese the same 10 cents on the dollar we charge others, more or less? So the amount to be charged them would be $14,290,000 and the actual military aid would be something like $177,990,000.

You see what happens when the bookkeeping is whimsical. If I keep on fighting these figures, I suppose that I shall soon come out to where we owe the Chinese money, which was, as you may recall, the British position when they asked for a loan of $3,750,000,000 that they got to end all further aid to Britain. That was long ago, but they felt that they had fought our war while we were debating and that they were entitled to compensation which, of course, is so if their premise was correct.

Maybe if I keep on grappling with these figures on military aid to China, it will show that they aided us and that we only confused them. It is hard to tell where you might come out. But this is certain: Our China policy has been so much in error that the Russians now outflank us in Japan and have won the top victory in World War II, hot or cold. The authors of our defeat are Lauchlin Currie, Owen Lattimore, John S. Service, W. Walton Butterworth, Jr., "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell and George Marshall. If only a congressional committee would ask them the right questions, we might get the right answers.

Also, I should like to know who wrote the directive for General George Marshall when he was sent to China. Was it Ben Cohen, whose former associate, Tommy Corcoran, has been so interested in Chinese affairs of the T. V. Soong variety?

In a word, here is indeed a Chinese puzzle and it would be one of academic import to us if only it did not mean that the United States has suffered a vast defeat which imperils our defenses. We need to know how it happened. A G. I. is shot if he falls asleep on watch; what happens to high officials when they fall asleep, when they pursue policies that aid the enemy and ruin the country? They are able to use the propaganda machine, paid for by the taxpayers, to save their faces. Let's have a congressional investigation.

Syrian Troops Dig In Opposite Trans-Jordan

BEIRUT, Lebanon, April 28 (AP)—Syrian troops were reported digging in opposite the Trans-Jordan frontier today, emphasizing tense relations between the Arab governments in Damascus and Amman.

A dispatch from the Syrian frontier town of Deraa (Nagati) said one defense line had been based upon Deraa and a second at Sheik Maskin, 12 miles to the north.

"Thousands of Syrian soldiers are fortifying the border," the correspondent wrote. "Reinforcements are continually arriving.

"I have seen thousands of Syrian soldiers at Sheik Maskin digging trenches along a vast area, with numerous heavy guns and tanks scattered about."

About 3,000 Trans-Jordan Arab Legionnaires are encamped on the other side of the border at Ramtha. No unusual activity was noted there.

Premier Riad El Solh, of Lebanon, asumed the role of peacemaker. He sought to smooth the difficulties between Syria and both Trans-Jordan and Iraq, whose kings are members of the Hashimite family. He engaged in long telephone conversations with each of the three capitals.

Spokesmen for Syria, whose government was taken over by Brig. Husni Zayim in a military coup March 30, said the attitude of Trans-Jordan and Iraq was unfriendly.

Zayim, now Syria's premier and defense minister, denounced Trans-Jordan and Iraq this week for proposing eventual absorption of Syria, called about 20,000 new soldiers to the colors and closed the border between Syria and Trans-Jordan.

VICTIMS OF AMBUSH—Mrs. Aurora Quezon (center), widow of the late Manuel Quezon, Philippines' first President, and her daughter, Maria Aurora Quezon (right), were killed in a machine-gun ambush yesterday in Northern Luzon. The husband of another daughter, Maria Zeneida Buencamine (left), also was killed. In all, 10 persons were slain.

Lie Tests Clear Girl In Mother's Slaying

CHICAGO, April 28 (INS) — A lie detector test today cleared Alice Grinde, 27, of any connection with the fatal stabbing of her mother, Mrs. Hazel Grinde, 56.

Miss Grinde discovered her mother's body in the bathroom of their home last Tuesday night. Police said previous examinations were inconclusive because Miss Grinde was emotionally upset by the crime.

Previously, the Grindes' landlord, Joseph Cary, and his wife were cleared by lie tests.

Authorities theorized Mrs. Grinde might have been stabbed to death over a bridge debt by someone she knew.

Attractive Hostesses Added To State House

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 28 (AP) — State House sightseers will learn all about the old building from a pair of attractive hostesses, beginning next week.

The young ladies were hired Monday by Director John P. Trimmer, of the Department of Information, to guide visitors around the 177-year-old Capitol and its sloping terraces.

Their blonde and brunette heads have been buried all week in Maryland history books.

The blonde is Rose Mary Kelso, 22, Linthicum. The brunette, Mrs. Barbara McGrath, 30, is the wife of a tutor at St. John's College.

Barkley Crowns Icelandic Beauty Queen Of Apple Blossom Festival

WINCHESTER, Va., April 28 (AP) —They crowned Margret Thors queen of the apple realm today.

The brown-haired, blue-eyed Icelandic beauty had the jeweled crown set on her head by no less a personage than Vice-President Alben W. Barkley.

Then, while cascades of applause rippled from a crowd upwards of 25,000, she took her golden scepter from Lieutenant-Governor L. Preston Collins, Jr.

For the Vice-President she swore that she would "govern with prudence and justice" during her two-day reign at the 22nd Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival.

"And while this is not a part of the script," responded Mr. Barkley, "I will solemnize it myself." Whereupon he kissed her.

For the queen afterwards, and for her 38 princesses who came from schools all over the state, there was a spectacular pageant of springtime, wherein 1,500 Winchester school children danced and sang in a tribute to nature and America.

A hot sun blazed down on the Handley High School field where the big crowd watched and cheered. The weather man, who as late as yesterday had predicted cloudy skies and possible rain, was happily double-crossed.

For hours before today's coronation and pageant, Winchester's narrow streets were a traffic mad house. Scores of state and city policemen labored to keep the steady influx of cars moving. There were plenty of apple blossoms for the visitors. The orchards were in full bloom. Rows of blossoming trees lined the Handley field.

Tonight firemen from cities and towns in four states marched in a torchlight parade with prizes for the best unit. Later there was a grand ball for the queen in the city armory.

Tomorrow Miss Thors, daughter of Iceland's minister to the United States and Canada, shares the acclaim with Bob Hope.

Hope comes to town for a few hours to act as grand marshal of the festival's feature float parade. He will be knighted by the queen in the morning.

Wood's measure would kill the Taft-Hartley Act in name but retain many of its major features. The Lesinski bill would junk the T-H law almost completely and revive the old 1935 Wagner Act with some changes.

Administration leaders were still confident they can beat down the Republican - Southern Democratic coalition backing the Wood bill. But they conceded that a few barbs may have to be admitted into the Lesinski bill, by way of amendments, before it is passed.

Big Hippo Ends Sitdown Strike

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP) — One of the biggest sitdown strikes in history ended today. Bubbles, 1,800-pound hippopotamus, yielded to a fancy meal.

Her surrender to the bait, placed in a crate in which she is to be shipped to Columbus, O., ended a week of her toying with patient officials of the Columbus Zoo and her home, Brookfield Zoo.

A big van, the crate and four zoomen came here from Ohio a week ago today to take her back. Since then she'd been on strike, refusing to budge into the crate.

"For a while it looked like she wouldn't give in today," Robert Bean, Brookfield Zoo director, reported. "It took us 24 minutes from the time we put out the food until we slammed the gate in back of her."

The salad that broke her willpower consisted of garlic, onions, bread, grain mash, bananas and "just about everything else we could think of," Bean said.

Bubbles sniffed at the concoction and walked half way into the crate. It mustn't have smelled so good the first time She backed out. The zoomen figured on a few more days of waiting. Then she strode in again. When her pig-like tail slipped over the line, the crate was closed.

Once in the crate, she didn't mind it at all. She ate with gusto and put away the garlic without a burp.

Plans For "Hermit's" Rehabilitation Made

NEW YORK, April 28 (INS) — Plans were made today for the rehabilitation of Brooklyn's "hermit," while Greenpoint hospital authorities reported his mother, partner in his 10-year hibernation, may "die at any minute."

Peter Makushak, 62-year-old tailor, who thought his son, Paul, was in Canada, said he was notified his wife, Anna, 58, is dying of cancer.

The father outlined plans to help his 32-year-old son adjust himself to the world from which he exiled himself a decade ago.

The shy, 200-pound man was found Tuesday night in a filthy five-by-three foot cubbyhole in his mother's littered apartment.

Dissatisfaction with the world, he said, had caused him to retire to the cubicle in 1939. Since then his mother had fed and cared for him, keeping his whereabouts secret from neighbors and from his father.

BLE Rejects Report

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today rejected a presidential fact-finding report denying a second engineer on Diesel locomotives.

The action left the BLE free to call a proposed strike against 15 western railroads May 11. But the union indicated such steps was not likely.

20 Baltimore Firemen Have Narrow Escape

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—Nearly 20 firemen were trapped momentarily today on the sixth floor of a burning apartment house in the downtown area. All escaped uninjured.

They were battling flames under the ceiling of the structure when a portion of the roof collopsed.

That left them temporarily isolated by flames and thick, choking smoke. They had come up a stairway and there were no ladders raised to windows at the immediate spot.

Before a ladder was hurriedly put into place, one of the firemen tossed his burning rubber boot from the window.

They finally clambered to safety.

The three-alarm fire at the Wentworth Arms Apartments (Mulberry and Cathedral Streets) routed about 20 persons.

Phone Company Seeks Tax Assessment Cut

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 28 (AP)—The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company today objected to what it called "procrustean treatment" at the hands of the State Tax Commission.

The Baltimore utility asked the Court of Appeals to chop down as too high an assessment of $67,588,525 on its property.

Attorney General Hall Hammond replied the figure was a proper assessment for tax purposes.

"It has become axiomatic in this state that assessments made by the State Tax Commission are presumed to be correct," Hammond said.

Phone company lawyers argued the tax commission has used various assessment formulas which work out to the maximum disadvantage of the company.

Home Group Hears Talk On Wallpaper

The American Home Group of the Woman's Civic Club had Mrs. R. T. Armstrong as the speaker at the meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. N. Golladay, chairman, Washington Street. Her subject was "Wallpaper." Mrs. Armstrong has her B.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin as an interior decorator.

The speaker traced wall coverings from the time when fur was used to keep the wind from blowing through the chinks to the present time. She explained that with the opening of the Indian trade, paper became known to the western world. The Feudal Lords and Ladies in their castles could not possibly use less than a tapestry on their walls.

It was not until Madam Pompadour espoused the East India Trading companies, the speaker said, that wallpaper was used in her chambers and it was accepted in the better places. Chippendale in England adopted the Chinese into his decoration. Then followed Hepplewhite and Sheraton and in the United States, Northern Dutch and Southern Colonial. At the turn of the century there were the Adan Brothers in England, Federal here and Directoire in France and the Victorian era.

Mrs. Armstrong went on to explain that there are two main methods of printing wallpaper, the roller press and screen printing. She suggested restful papers be used in the living room and bedroom, but the dining room, kitchen, den and other rooms have more exciting papers and above all, to use the papers that suit one's personality.

Mrs. Fred Dodge, Hospitality chairman, was in charge of refreshments. Mrs. William A. Douglas poured tea and assisting Mrs. Dodge were Mrs. Frank Wright, Mrs. Walter L. Pierce, Mrs. Hugo Keller, Mrs. Ralph Nevy, Mrs. G. Frank Malin, Mrs. T. Baily Hunter and Mrs. Nellie Wilson Footer.

The Bethel Bible Class of St. John's Lutheran Church will hold a bake sale at 9:30 tomorrow in the Cumberland Electric Store, Virginia Avenue.

Wahaba Temple 237, DOKK, Ladies Night will be held at 8 Tuesday at Prospect Square. The Winter Trio will provide the music.

Circle 2, Centre Street Methodist Church, will meet in the club room at 8 Monday. All members are asked to attend as it will be the final meeting of the year.

Homemakers To Sponsor Concert

The annual spring concert of the Allegany County Homemakers Chorus will be presented in the form of a Sacred Vespers at 4 o'clock Sunday in Centre Street Methodist Church. It will be the first event of the National Home Demonstration Week observance.

The Chorus will be assisted by the Mennonite Quartet, composed of Mrs. Claude Yoder, Mrs. Harry J. Barton, Mrs. Myron J. Livengood and Mrs. Harold Ours and the St. Luke's Lutheran Church Double Quartet including Miss Earlene Hardman, Miss Helen Kerr, Mrs. Jack Palmer, Mrs. Thomas Rarig, Nelson Zapf John Dorn, Marshall H. Sowers and Carl Reith. Mrs. Richard W. Trevaskis, Sr., is director and organist; Mrs. John E. Dorn, organist and accompanist, and Mrs. Vernon Cost, violinist. Mrs. Robert W. Young will give the Scripture, prayer and reading parts.

By BOB HOPE

Have a chaw, podner.

Yes, sir, here we are in the heart of the tobacco country ... Winston Salem, N. C. ... and we certainly enjoyed this wonderful North Carolina hospitality.

You could tell this was a tobacco town even before we landed. Instead of making our landing by radio, we came in on a smoke signal.

Of course, I'm not used to being greeted by these tobacco men. Before I stepped out of the plane, L. A. Speed Riggs had my ears auctioned off to a planter in Nashville.

We fell right in with the spirit of the place since one of Les Brown's hot musicians is the son of an old tobacco man. In fact, his drums have been smoking for nigh onto twenty years.

Yes, tobacco is everything to the people of Winston Salem and they eat, sleep and live tobacco. In fact, I heard about one woman who divorced her husband because he was spending too much time with a naturally fine, naturally ripe tobacco leaf.

These North Carolinians are better off than many of us because they can make a living in radio if they can't find other work. They can always sign those statements F. E. Boone reads.

Attention

Mr. Green and Mr. Murray

You, Mr. Green, speaking as the head of the A F of L and you, Mr. Murray, speaking as the head of the C I O have both on numerous occasions called the Taft-Hartley Act a slave labor law. Why?

Is the Taft-Hartley Act a slave labor law:

because it prevents a union member from being fired from his job and kicked out of the union at the whim of a union official?

because under this Law union officials cannot force union members to pay exorbitant dues and are unable to collect unreasonably large initiation fees from new members?

because this Law rules out violence, coercion and intimidation as a means of securing union members?

because this Law outlaws the compulsory check off? It isn't enslavement is it, for the union to have to get the consent of the union member before dipping into his pay envelope?

because this Law protects the right of union members to a secret ballot when voting on such important matters as the election of officers, a union shop or acceptance of an offer to settle a strike?

because money paid by union members and employers into union, health, welfare and vacation funds cannot be diverted by union officials to other uses?

because this Law gives each union member the right to decide whether he shall take a grievance up through union channels or direct with his employer with a representative of the union present?

because this Law requires an itemized accounting by the union to its members of all receipts and disbursements?

because union members now have the right to ask the National Labor Relations Board for a hearing on changing unions or not having any union, the issue being decided by secret ballot?

because under this Law union members can, if they choose, go directly to the National Labor Relations Board for relief from any unfair labor practice by either the union or their employer?

because it is no longer possible for the union to keep an individual worker from getting a job because he does not belong to the union?

because this Law makes unions financially responsible for living up to their contracts and protects union members from being thrown out of work by jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts?

because this Law guarantees the same freedom of speech to employers the unions have always had?

because this Law outlaws the closed shop and requires both unions and employers to bargain in good faith?

because under this Law employers are not required to pay for work not performed?

because Public Welfare and Safety are protected by machinery set up in this Law to reduce the possibility of industry-wide strikes?

because under this Law the public is assured that its interests must be considered in labor disputes and at the bargaining table?

We believe, gentlemen, that these questions cover the main or principal provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act and eagerly await your answers, which should be quite helpful in clearing up the confusion which still exists in public thinking concerning this Law. Also, if what you call the slave labor sections of this Law are not covered by our questions, we'll be glad to have you tell us what those sections are and to explain the provisions in each, which give it the slave labor characteristics you attribute to it.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Hon. Juan Domingo Peron
President of the Argentine Republic
Casa Rosada
Buenos Aires, Argentina
Dear Mr. President:

On the morning of January 20 you were good enough to receive me in your office and we talked for the best part of an hour, with James Bruce, U.S. Ambassador to Argentina, and Alberto Dodero, the industrialist, doing the interpreting.

Billy Rose

One of the things we talked about was the softness of your currency. At the time of my visit, the official exchange rate was 4.8 pesos to the dollar, while on the legal black market it was 10.5. You told me that this was due to a shortage of dollars and agreed when I suggested that the best way to get dollars was to trade with the one country that has them—the U. S. You also agreed that for the long pull the good will of the United States was darned important to the well-being of Argentina.

"Mr. President," I said, "if this is so, wouldn't it be helpful if every month or so you were to get a bare-knuckle appraisal of how we feel about you and your Government up in the States? Not a spoonful of soothing syrup from a diplomat who has the wife and kids to think of, but an honest report from a fellow who only knows what he reads in the papers."

Not only did you agree that such letters would be helpful, but you promised to answer them and assured me you would have no objection to my running your answers in the papers which carry my column . . .

Well, first of all, let's discuss the wobbly currency in your inherently rich country, and your present trade deficit which I've seen estimated as low as $200,000,000 and as high as $500,000,000. Isn't it a fact that your sheep raisers currently have about $150,000,000 worth of wool and are hoarding it because of export licenses which make it unprofitable for them to sell it? Isn't it a fact that, for the same reason, Argentine warehouses are bulging with $35,000,000 worth of beef extract and $50,000,000 worth of hides and quebacho, an oil used in tanning leather and the lining of oil wells? And isn't it also a fact that your canned meats, eggs, butter and cheese would bring $250,000,000 if turned loose on the American market?

In other words, Mr. President, if you lifted trade restrictions, wouldn't these four items—wool, beef extract, quebacho and packing products—bring Argentina something like half a billion dollars, wipe out its trade deficit and give your peso the biceps it currently lacks?

During our talk you said you were anxious for American businessmen to invest their capital and know-how in Argentina. Well, here are some of the questions our people would like answered before they buy their boat and plane tickets:

1. What protection would our businessmen have against prohibitive price controls, Government-controlled labor unions, and expropriation of their plants once they got them going?

2. How free is your press and your radio? Has any commentator on the air or in the press criticized you or your Government during the past six months? And if not, isn't it due to the fact that certain individuals intimately associated with you own these radio stations and most of the newspapers? Isn't it also true that once-outspoken papers like La Prensa and La Nacion have been silenced by your threat to cut off their newsprint?

And now for a leading question: Is the young man named Freudi, who heads your Palace Guard Secret Service, the son of the Freudi who heads the Allied Black List as the No. 1 Nazi in Argentina? Is it a fact that young Freudi directs a force of 5,000 secret agents, 1,500 of whom are assigned to the post offices to read all important incoming and outgoing mail? Can you deny that practically every telephone which might yield information is tapped by these agents, including those of all foreign embassies, those belonging to foreign correspondents, and those of all important visitors?

And what's the status of Captain Lilienthal, Freudi's assistant? As I get the story, this Lilienthal has ingratiated himself with you to the point where he's almost the first person you see every morning, and that of late you've been using him to carry out certain confidential jobs. Are you aware of the fact that this Lilienthal, according to the dossier in our intelligence files, was the hatchetman for Joseph Goebbels? And if you are, why haven't you turned him over for trial as a Nazi war criminal?

I sincerely trust that, after reading this, you will still think the exchange of open letters is a good idea. I can assure you that the questions I've asked are pretty representative of the things people are wondering about on our side of the Equator.

Needless to say, Mr. President, your answer will appear everywhere this column appears.

Please give my regards to Senora Evita and Senor Dodero.

Respectfully,

BILLY ROSE.

EXCLUSIVE snooperoo from the United Nations stratospheric quarters: One of the higher-ups just has undergone an international version of the good, old-fashioned shotgun wedding—atomic blast matrimony.

At the thunderous urging of Secretary-general Trygve Lie, this poor fellow had to call his entire department together and announce to them his marriage—and the birth of a son—at the same time! His lucky lady was a secretary at the United Nations.

Blond, tall and esthetic-looking, MacBride has a brogue and down-to-earth humor . . . "The 157 members of the Irish Parliament seldom agree on anything," he explains, "except that Ireland shouldn't enter the North Atlantic Pact."

Privately, he approves of the pact, he says, but it's out of the question for his country. "There are 11 members we would join. However, we can't have any military alliance with the 12th—Britain."

One of the provisions provides that participating countries are satisfied with present boundaries . . . Ireland still has those "Partition Blues."

Take Care That Moths Don't Get Full Meal From Your Stored-Away Wardrobe

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Dust is starting to fly in every household. Nooks and crannies are being purged of spider webs. Summer clothes are being given the air. Winter clothes are being tucked away.

A new moth-killer dispenser will help you prepare an entire wardrobe for storage in 10 to 15 minutes and will treat rugs and upholstery in a matter of seconds. It gives off a mist that does not mat, spot or stiffen the fabric. All you have to do is spray and pack them in the closet.

There are many short cuts to spring cleaning that will save you time, money and energy. "The School Custodian's Housekeeping Handbook," published by Teachers College, Columbia University, gives comprehensive treatment of the subject. Here are some of the things to keep in mind when doing these chores.

1. Keep the dust cloth folded in squares so that when the face of the cloth gets soiled, other sections can be used.

2. When cleaning light shades on fixtures, start with a clean extra shade. This can be substituted for the soiled shade, which will be taken down, washed, and used as the "spare" for the next fixture.

3. Before applying furniture polish, saturate the cloth with water, wring it out thoroughly so it is slightly damp. The fibers of the cloth will then absorb less of the liquid in the polish.

4. Metal polishes and scouring powders should be used sparingly when cleaning nickel or chromium-plated fittings because as abrasives those substances can wear away plated coating.

5. In washing walls, start at the bottom and work up. If washing is started at the top, the cleaning solution is bound to dribble down on the dirty wall and leave a streak even before the rinse water is applied.

6. Use an old house painter's trick. After washing walls, apply a starch solution by boiling ordinary cornstarch in water for about 20 minutes and allowing it to cool. Apply the jellylike substance to the clean walls with a wide calcimine brush. It dries as a colorless film. When areas are washed again, the starch dissolves and carries with it much of the soil that has settled on the starch film. Strained buttermilk also may be used in place of the starch solution.

Most people who live in apartments want to store their winter rugs out of the home. It is different if you have a large house, and rugs can be stored in the attic.

Rugs should be shamppoed before they are stored in warehouses. Some warehouses do the shampooing and maintain special rug rooms. Here the rugs are carefully stored after being sprinkled or sprayed with moth repellent.

Warehousemen advise housewives that expensive drapes should be cleaned and then packed in specially constructed boxes the full length of the drapes, especially valances lined with buckram. Boxes should be lined with moth-repellent paper. Praperies should be sprayed with moth repelent. They caution also that you should keep drapes from contact with moth paper by an inner lining of heavy brown paper.

Be sure you choose a reputable warehouse for storage of rugs or other household belongings.

The enchantment of shining, clean, glistening hair is the crowning glory of feminine charms.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

A FAMOUS cartoonist friend of mine who draws a daily comic strip, says that whenever his story calls for a feminine enchantress, he takes special pains to create a character whose most obvious attraction is a beautiful head of hair. Of all the symbols of feminine appeal, lovely hair is pretty universally acclaimed as woman's crowning glory.

While thousands and thousands of women will devote any number of hours necessary to keep their hair curled, comparatively few will perform the simple rites essential to keep the hair shining and lustrous. Yet no matter how perfect your hair styling may be, unless your hair is soft, silky and glisteningly clean, its effectiveness is lost.

Your Hair's Best Friend

If you want your face to be framed with beauty, if you want to be the proud possessor of a glorious head of hair, now is the time to get the habit of good hair care. It consists mainly of keeping the scalp and hair clean, keeping a hair brush handy and clean, and getting the two together in a lively fashion daily! Your hair brush is the best friend your hair can have!

A brush with long, stiff bristles is the best kind to own. Since one of the brush's main functions is to keep your scalp and hair as clean as possible between shampoos, it goes without saying that you must keep your brush scrupulously clean. And this is the simplest of tasks. A comb run through the brush to remove hair and dust, a few swishes in sudsy hot water to which a drop or two of household ammonia has been added, a very hot rinse and a thorough drying in the sun is all that is necessary. But it's mighty necessary—and often!

The Brushing Position

There's a special brushing position which you should always take because it serves as a beauty treatment for both your face and your hair. Bend forward as far as you can and let your head dangle toward the floor while you brush your hair. This position increases the circulation of the blood to the head and helps to air both the hair and scalp.

Start your brushing at the nape of your neck and work around your head systematically until you arrive back at your starting position. Every stroke you make should begin at your hairline and roll through the crown of your head. A hundred strokes a day is enough for a lazy person! How many are you willing to make to bring out the maximum beauty of your crowning glory?

Tomorrow: If the shoe fits, put it on!

Plans Completed For Clean-Up Day

The Jaycee Clean-Up committee has completed plans for the Clean-Up Trash Day Sunday, according to William Scott, president.

Fifteen trucks have been donated to collect trash and rubbish in all parts of the city, Scott said, and all residents are asked to place their collections on the curbs Saturday night. The collection will begin early Sunday morning, with trucks and teams assemblying at the A & P parking lot, Wineow Street at 7:30 a. m.

The city has been divided into zones and trucks assigned to each area.

Refreshments will be served to the volunteers working on the Clean-Up Sunday, Scott said.

Hershey Garden Of 20,000 Tulips Near Full Bloom

HERSHEY, Pa., April 28 — The Hershey Garden with its 20,000 tulips will reach the peak of its bloom at this week-end for tulips swing along in blossom one type after another in a definite procession of blooms. The height of the flowering comes when the greatest number of different types are overlapping in bloom.

At the last week-end 15,000 tulips were in bloom, and on Sunday, despite the showers in the morning, 10,000 people from afar came to see the many patterns and effective displays arranged for rich, varied and harmonious effects.

Certain varieties were planted in beds of from 100 to 200 in hues and tints of red, yellow, white, pink, lilac, rose, scarlet and crimson, as well as two tone colors aimed to give pleasing effects.

Parrots and Darwins Blooming

The additional tulips that break into bloom this week are the Parrots and the Darwins the early bloomers being of three types — double, triumph and cottage tulips, all of the various varieties being in colors of the rainbow.

In the 21 acres of the Hershey Garden, which is free to the public, as is parking space for 800 automobiles, there are various other flowers, shrubs and trees that are now in bloom and which are an added attraction after one has seen the tulips.

There are azaleas now in blossom with their large lavender flowers, double cherries with rose-pink blooms, flowering crab apples with rose-pink and red blossoms and coming into flower are the white and pink dogwoods.

Something Typical of Holland

The Judas or red bud trees with their rosy-purple blossoms are stand outs, and the viburnum trees with their pale pink flowers are observed many yards away because the blooms have the scent of cloves. The primroses of orange, yellow and red blooms make the garden look very gay, and close observers are much impressed with the fritilaria plant, whose flowers are upside down and you have to turn them over to see the beauty of their blooms. Also, blue-purple grape hyacinths add their color.

More than ever photographers are present taking pictures in color, and this year they have something typical of Holland to include, the little children of Michael Kroon, who is known as the "tulip man", and whose youngsters are dressed in Dutch costume.

Fort Hill Students Invited To Session

Fire Destroys Clary Club Dance Hall

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the one-story frame dance hall of the Clary Club nine miles west of Cumberland on Route 40 early yesterday morning.

Joseph Lyons, owner, estimated damage at more than $20,000.

Lyons said he and his wife had just retired when Mrs. Lyons detected smoke coming from the front of the dance hall, which adjoins the main building in which the Lyons occupy a third-floor apartment.

Nine fire companies responded to the alarm and five groups played heavy streams of water on all four sides of the building to keep the rapidly-spreading flames from the historic Clarysville Inn, which houses sleeping rooms, kitchens, private dining rooms and a cocktail lounge besides the Lyons apartment.

Adequate water for quenching the blaze was supplied by the Clarysville Fire Department's reservoir and a creek near the front of the building.

Lyons said he and employes smelled smoke early Wednesday night and had searched in vain for its source, finally attributing the odor to kitchen fumes.

A large crowd, he said, attended the County Ten Pin League dance at the Club Wednesday night and the last of the guests left at about 2 a. m., about half an hour before fire was discovered.

Although the cause of the blaze has not been determined, Lyons said defective wiring is suspected. An investigation is underway. Lyons reported only minor water damage to the rest of the building.

The 60-by-80-feet dance hall had recently been redecorated and refurnished with new tables and chairs, a piano, and new bar equipment. Nothing was saved.

The Clary Club, one of the county's most popular night spots, was built in 1936 by Casper Taylor as an addition to Clarysville Inn. In 1946 Taylor sold the whole establishment to Lyons, a World War II veteran.

Fire companies which fought the blaze for more than three hours included the Frostburg, Borden Shaft, Midland, LaVale and Clarysville companies. Standing by were volunteer groups from Lonaconing, Mt. Savage, Corriganville and Bowman's Addition.

Earlier this month the Cumberland Country Club was destroyed by fire and Town Hill Hotel was damaged by flames.

Caramel Rice Pudding

½ cup rice
⅝ cup sugar
2½ cups milk
3 eggs, beaten until light
½ cup nuts
½ teaspoon salt

Wash rice well. Cook in 2 quarts rapidly boiling, salted water for 10 minutes. Drain. Put sugar into skillet and heat, stirring constantly, until golden brown. Remove from heat and carefully pour in ½ cup of the milk.

Heat gently, stirring constantly, until caramel is dissolved. Combine with rice, rest of milk, and other ingredients. Pour into buttered baking dish, set in pan of water and bake in a moderate oven, 325°F., for 1 to 1½ hours or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Serves 6.

Green Pea Soup

¼ cup diced onion
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
4 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup cooked peas, whole or partially mashed
½ teaspoon Worchestershire sauce (optional)

Melt butter in saucepan, add diced onion and fry until tender. Blend in flour, gradually add milk, while stirring, and cook over low heat until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly.

Add seasonings, peas and sauce. Serve garnished with chopped parsley or grated cheese if desired. Serves 6.

Carrots, Rice Basis For Tasty Dishes

The vegetable battle goes on daily. It is difficult to make a difference in vegetables, but it is important to use less meat. The secret of having newness in the vegetable line is by combining different ones together, gaining an adventure in substance and flavor.

There is never a month in the year when carrots are not available, and, naturally, you always have rice on your shelf. So rice with its rather bland, companionable taste and the "nuttiness" of carrots—ah, ha, there is something new under the sun!

Ring molds are great cook-helpers, but in case one is not on your shelves, a ring effect can be had by spooning the rice-carrot mixture out into the shape of a ring.

Ingredients

3 cups cooked rice
1 cup shredded carrots
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Preparing Rice

Put 1 cup of white rice, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups cold water in a two-quart saucepan. Cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more. During this time the rice will absorb the water and come out deliciously tender. Remove the lid to permit the rice to steam dry. Lift rice with a work to test its consistency. Never stir rice while cooking—and the grains will be separate and tender.

Method

Season the hot fluffy rice with salt, butter or margarine and onion. Toss lightly with a fork to allow the seasonings to be evenly distributed. Add the raw, shredded carrots and toss again. Pack in a well-greased ring mold and set in a pan of hot water until ready to use.

This ring makes a delightful vegetable dish by itself or additional interest can be added by filling center of ring with hot creamed meat or chicken or vegetables and it is especially good with curried lamb.

This makes from six to eight servings.

Cranberry Sundae

1¼ cups (⅓ lb.) cranberries
1 cup light corn syrup
⅔ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 quart ice cream

Wash cranberries, drain thoroughly. Put into saucepan with corn sirup, sugar and salt. Cook slowly over low heat, uncovered, until all the berries have burst and are translucent in appearance. Cool. Fruit and juice should have a thick sirup-like consistency. Serve over ice cream. Serves 6.

Hot Dill Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon minced onion (optional)
1 cup finely diced dill pickle

Melt butter in saucepan, add flour and seasonings and blend; gradually add milk while stirring, and cook over low heat until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Add lemon juice, onion and dill pickle, stirring to blend. Makes about 1¾ cups sauce. Serve hot with fish.

Here's How A Chef Sections Grapefruit

There's an easy way and a hard way to do everything, a work-making way and a work-saving way. It's good sense to watch the experts when you want perfect, yet easily-achieved results.

Now is the season of the biggest, juciest grapefruit that ever brightened a market basket. They're the kind that come from Florida, sunny home of sunny fruit. Just to see those big, plump grapefruit makes you think of deliciously tart salads, zippy fruit cups, grapefruit puddings and grapefruit pies.

Here's how to get whole perfect sections from a fresh Florida grapefruit in expert style. With a sharp knife, cut a slice of peel off the stem end of the grapefruit. Then cut strips of peel off the grapefruit from top to bottom until it's entirely peeled up and down. Cut off the remaining slice of peel at the blossom end. Trim off any white membrane clinging to the fruit. Take the knife and cut alongside a section to the center of the membrane. Then cut down along the other side of the membrane. Lift out the section, whole and perfect, easy as that.

Marble Donuts

1 cup marshmallow whip

2 tablespoons semi-sweet chocolate pieces

6 store bought donuts

Heat marshmallow whip in top double boiler, stirring constantly until smooth and syrupy. Add chocolate pieces and allow to melt to form marble effect. Top each donut with marble sauce.

And here's one that will provide a sensation at your next bridge luncheon, and set guests to "oohing and ahhing" over your cleverness.

Knowing Notes On Use Of Orange Concentrate

Are you one of the thousands of homemakers who've been happily experimenting with orange concentrate? It was a war-borne notion to do the squeezing for folks before the orange juice even reached them and, even smarter than that, they also concentrated the juice so it could be carried to you in small space-saving cans to be re-constituted when you want it.

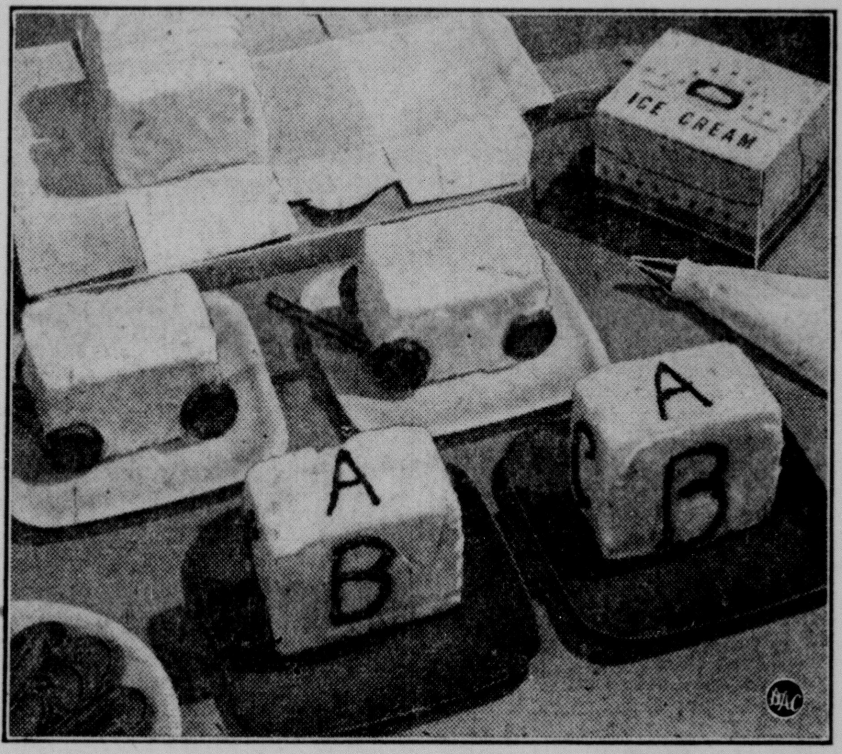
That's a capsule story of the hours of work and space saved by orange concentrate. Most of the concentrate you'll encounter in the market now is frozen in convenient 6 oz. cans. It should be stored in the coldest part of your refrigerator when you get it home. And it's smarter to re-constitute it (add the water) all at once the first time you use it. Then you can keep it cold and covered in the refrigerator just like any orange juice, to use when you're ready for it.

A 6 oz. can of frozen orange concentrate is re-constituted to sparkling fresh orange juice by adding 18 ozs. of water to make 1½ pints of orange juice.

In Homer's Illiad Stentor was a Grecian herald in the Trojan wars, famous for his loud voice. Any person possessing an uncommonly strong voice is said to have a "stentorian" voice, after him.

American steel companies produced more steel during 1948 than the rest of the world together.

Ice Cream Blocks Build Up Party Spirit



NO party's complete without ice cream, particularly where the small fry are concerned. This small fry party idea for making blocks that look as fascinating as youngsters' favorite toys is easy, if you use handy pre-packaged ice cream. Buy the ice cream in a variety of flavors when you do your marketing (most grocery stores stock it now, in the frozen food cabinets, you know) and keep it in the freezing compartment until it's time to serve, so that it will be completely firm and easy to cut into square blocks. Each pint makes four ample servings. Decorate the blocks with the letters of the alphabet in chocolate or pastel colored confectioners' sugar frosting applied with a pastry tube, or make intriguing little wagons out of each block by using round chocolate or peppermint candies for wheels and chocolate or peppermint stick candies for the handles.

Donut Charlotte Russe

4 tested quality donuts
½ pint heavy cream, whipped
¼ cup currant jelly

Top each donut with whipped cream; fill with currant jelly.

Here's another simple donut dessert dish that's really a live-saver in getting the youngsters to gulp down their after-dinner milk. They will drink it eagerly, enhanced by these novel donut combinations.

Donut Party Plate

Melt one package chocolate bits with 2 tablespoons vegetable shortening over hot water, blending well. Dip 12 plain, sugared or cinnamon donuts into chocolate bit mixture deep enough to cover half of each donut. Then dip into bowl of chopped salted peanuts, nonpareil seeds or coconut. Set on waxed paper until chocolate has hardened.

Cottage Pancakes And Cherry Sauce

1½ cups milk
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¾ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar

Cottage Cheese Filling

1 pound creamed cottage cheese
¾ teaspoon grated lemon rind.
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt.

Mix ½ cup of milk with eggs. Add the flour, salt and sugar all at once and beat with a rotary beater until smooth; add remaining milk and mix. Combine ingredients for cheese filling. Heat about 1 teaspoon shortening in a 9-inch skillet; add ¼ cup of the batter.

Rotate skillet slightly so that batter runs to the edges. Cook until browned on each side, turning once. Place on hot platter and spread with 3 tablespoons of cheese filling and roll. Do this with each pancake. Keep platter covered to keep hot.

Pour hot cherry sauce made by thickening sweetened red cherries over top. Makes 12 pancakes.

Blade Pork Steaks Done Creole Style

To the Bayous' cooks! It's to the good cookery land of Louisiana that we go for making a most delicious dish with a thrifty cut of pork. Pork blade steaks are our thrifty cut. Creole style is our cookery for serving up those economy pork steaks in a fashion fit for the king of the household.

Know about Creole cookery, that subtle blend of the French, Spanish and African cuisines? Then you know about the blending of tomato with onion and green pepper, the soupcon of herbs, the fluffiness of rice to drink up the sauce and give it back to you in savory morsels. To all this goodness, add a thrifty cut of pork cooked right in with the sauce and rice to give the meal mainstay power, and you've got Blade Pork Steaks Creole all ready to serve!

Less-known among the pork cuts, and therefore your gain for thrift, blade pork steaks are hefty slices of flavor-rich pork cut from the Boston butt. They have a portion of the blade-bone in them and a large percentage of lean meat. They're steak-shape, hence their name. One blade pork steak will serve from one to three persons, depending on how thick they are cut.

They make a wonderful winter dish with their substantial juicy meat, their richness in Vitamin B, as well as complete high quality protein and essential minerals. The way we're cooking these blade pork steaks, all the rich juices of the meat ennoble the sauce and the rice cooked with it. An easy skillet job, you begin by browning the pork steak for extra savor, add your sauce ingredients and then the rice, so that all of this fine combination cooks together, gives you a bouquet of flavors (the essence of Creole cookery) and leaves you with nary a thing to wash but the skillet the dish cooked in!

An advantage, too, is the way this is a meal in itself, with naught to add but a salad, some crusty bread and dessert. Just the thing for long, accomplished-a-lot winter afternoons when you want a good dish for dinner yet need the time to concentrate on numberless little tasks around the house, this skillet supper will cook along obligingly as you please with little attention from you. Serve it up, hot and savory, when the folks come in out of the winter cold, and be glad you discovered an economy dish that tastes so good.

Braising Is Correct

The technique used in cooking Blade Pork Steaks Creole is called braising. It's the method most often used for cooking pork correctly, especially the thrifty cuts. Some cuts, like loin and shoulder, are roasted, but the majority of the pork cuts are best braised. As far as pork is concerned, it's best to forget you ever heard of broiling.

Pork is a meat that needs slow, thorough cookery to develop flavor and complete doneness. Broiling isn't a leisurely enough method to cook pork correctly. Then, too, rapid cooking, such as broiling, drives off the fat, which contains much of the flavor of pork. Pork that is well cooked will look grayish white when cut, without the slightest tinge of pink.

•Successfully cooked pork depends upon cooking the meat at a temperature that will make sure the meat will be well done in the center as well as well browned but not dried out on the outside.

In the recipe for Blade Pork Steaks Creole, you may or may not need additional fat for browning the meat. If the pork steaks have a good amount of fat in them, it will not be necessary to add any extra fat for browning.

Pork Blade Steaks Creole

1 tbsp. bacon drippings or lard.
3 1-inch thick blade pork steaks.
1 large onion, chopped.
1 green pepper, chopped.
1 clove garlic, optional.
1 No. 2 can tomatoes.
½ cup water.
¼ teasp. thyme.
2 teasps. salt.
⅜ cup uncooked rice.

Melt fat in heavy skillet; add meat and brown well. Add onion, green pepper, garlic, tomatoes, water, thyme and salt; bring to a boil. Sprinkle rice over entire surface of liquid. Cover tightly and cook over low heat until rice is cooked and meat is tender, about 40 minutes. YIELD: 6 servings.

Party Luncheon For Junior

FOOD FOR FUN.. Veal and rice with creamed vegetable

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're the mother of a toddler it would be a good idea to celebrate National Baby Week this year (April 30 to May 7) by resolving that you will give Junior a little companionship at noon—and incidentally eat as nutritious a lunch as he does. Too many young mothers "grab a sandwich and a cup of coffee" at noon and, as a result, haven't the vim and vigor they need to deal with a vigorous runabout. The menu for a good mother-child luncheon can make use of Junior's own ready-to-serve fruits and vegetables, with milk as the beverage in Junior-Senior mugs and a side order of salad for Mother.

For the satisfying and quickly prepared main dish on the following menu, junior meat and vegetables join forces with pre-cooked rice and make a dish that serves three generously for about 12 cents. Junior's main dish can be served "as is" but mother's share can be seasoned with a little curry powder, tabasco, or Worcestershire sauce, for a tangy touch.

MOTHER-JUNIOR LUNCHEON
Veal And Rise Nest
With Creamed Vegetable
Zwieback Milk
Jiffy Peach Whip

Veal And Rice Nest

Ingredients: ½ package (¾ cup) pre-cooked rice, 1 cup water, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 can junior veal, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 cup medium white sauce, ⅛ cup (1 can) junior carrots.

Method: Mix rice, water and salt together in a saucepan. Place over medium heat and bring to a full boil, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat, cover and let stand for 10 minutes. Meanwhile prepare 1 cup medium white sauce and in this heat the ½ cup junior carrots. Odd veal and butter or margarine to cooked rice and reheat. Shape rice-meat mixture in form of nests on individual plates and fill centers with creamed vegetable. Makes 3 servings.

Note: Any cooked, leftover vegetables that are mild in flavor, such as green peas or asparagus, may be used instead of the carrots. Adults will like a half teaspoon or more of curry powder added to the veal, or a few drops of tabasco, Worcestershire or a similar sauce.

JIFFY PEACH WHIP

Whip 1 egg white until fluffy with 2 teaspoons sugar, a few grains of salt, and ½ teaspoon lemon juice. Fold in 1 can of chilled junior peaches. Spoon lightly into dishes and serve at once with arrowroot biscuits. Triangles or graham crackers may be placed in each serving dish before the whip is added. Try this with other junior fruits. Or serve with whip over sliced bananas.

MIRROR of your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Do we live up—or down—to our reputations?

Answer: On the whole, yes. Each person tends to behave in accordance with his "ego picture"—his idea of the sort of person he is. And since our ideas of ourselves are inevitably influenced by what we imagine other people thinks about us, anyone who feels he is admired and trusted will be likely to behave well, while a person who feels nobody has much use for him will be apt to say: "Why bother trying to be decent?" When husbands and wives "belittle" one another, each helps turn the other into what he or she is accused being.

Is mental illness funny?

Answer: In himself, an insane person is no funnier than cripple or a victim of tuberculosis. Yet from ancient times until today, his "crazy" notions, and behavior have been a part of the stock in trade of comic writers. I suspect we laugh at him for reasons much like those which make us laugh at an off-color story; we get an unconscious satisfaction from imagining how it would feel to give way to our own irrational impulses, but at the same time derive a sense of pleasure and relief from realizing that we do not do so.

Have "book clubs" lowered literary standards?

Answer: No writes Joseph W. Kappel in Public Opinion Quarterly. Advertising of books chosen by such clubs has increased the sales of books through non-club channels, and the books to which they give such widespread distribution are at least no worse than the "best sellers" of a generation ago. Unless we assume the average person has instinctively bad taste — which I do not believe— the more books a person reads, the more apt he will be to grow tired of the cheap and superficial ones and turn to those of solid merit.

Dead volcanoes far outnumber the living.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Dr. Pullman, the socialite dentist, was happily yanking teeth in his office on the 17th floor of a Madison Avenue skyscraper with his comely nurse, Ruth Gordon, in attendance, when a sharp cry gave them a start. Rushing to the window, they saw a good friend who had an office some floors above them, go hurtling past.

A couple of moments later, another friend burst into the office. "Did you hear about Johnny Jones?" he gasped. "He jumped or fell thirty floors. He's lying down there on Madison Avenue, and he looks terrible." "I can't understand that," said Miss Gordon. When we saw him go by just a minute ago, he looked wonderful."

Data Sought On Obstruction Lights

The Municipal Airport Commission yesterday requested the district engineer of the Civil Aeronautics Administration to make a survey with regard to installing obstruction lights at the Cumberland Airport.

Action followed receipt of a letter from Ora W. Young, regional CAA administrator, by T. Donald Shires, commission secretary.

Young said installation of navigation landing facilities by the CAA at the local field does not appear to be an immediate possibility, primarily because of lack of funds.

He advised contacting the district engineer regarding federal aid in providing obstruction lights on the surrounding terrain.

Car Demolished

A car owned and operated by William N. Monahan, 27, of 82 West Main Street, Frostburg, was demolished at 6:30 yesterday morning when it crashed against a telephone pole at the foot of Sand Springs Hil west of Frostburg.

Monahan, police said, apparently lost control of the car as it descended Big Savage Mountain. The vehicle went into a skid on the curve at Sand Springs, struck the guard rails on the right side of the road and then careened into the pole on the left side of the highway, breaking it off.

Monahan sustained only minor bruises. State Trooper Paul T. Long, who investigated, said no charges will be preferred pending investigation.

Arms To Back Up Alliance Urged

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Secretary of Defense Johnson told Congress today that unless it supplies arms to back up the Atlantic pact this country will have to pay an "inordinate price" if war comes.

"We must be prepared to counter foreseeable threats," he said in urging ratification of the 12-nation security alliance and approval of a $1,130,000,000 military aid program.

Johnson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the treaty itself "cannot be safely relied upon" to attain its peace objectives.

"Unless its terms are vigorously implemented, its force for peace will be vitiated," he said, adding:

"If there should be war, we should have to pay an inordinate price for our failure to implement it."

The defense chief thus summed up the views of the national military establishment on the 20-year mutual aid agreement between the United States and Canada and 10 Western European nations.

His testimony came after Warren Austin, chief United States delegate to the United Nations, declared that the Atlantic pact is needed because Russia has "brazenly" violated its pledges to refrain from use of threats and force against other countries.

Austin declared that the Atlantic pact "can lift the cause of peace above any level yet attained."

JUBILEE COMMANDER — Lester Mull (left) is seen here accepting the gavel from James J. Kloran as he assumes the office of commander of Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, here. Kloran is retiring commander. In the center is David Rinker, past commander and installing officer. Mull has the distinction of being the golden jubilee commander of the local post, since the VFW is observing its 50th anniversary this year. A golden jubilee party was held at the post home Wednesday night for members, social members and the auxiliary.

YOU WILL LIKE
an Electric Range because it's

YOU will like the speed of an electric range, the oven that comes to full heat in a matter of minutes, its remarkably fast baking ability and the surface units that glow with controlled heat almost as soon as a switch is turned.

You'll like the completely insulated oven—so perfectly heat sealed that you can comfortably place your hand on it at full temperature. And you will like its smokeless, sootless, sparking, easy-to-keep-clean beauty, complete safety, amazing convenience, and of course its low operating cost.

But perhaps best of all you'll like the automatic controls that assure perfect cooking results every time—controls that make it possible for you to place a meal in the oven and leave the house for as much as a whole day, knowing that, when you return, your dinner will be perfectly cooked, piping hot, and ready to serve.

The fact that the number of electric range users has nearly doubled in the past two years is impressive evidence of electric range popularity. Nearly 30,000 women in this area, many of them friends and neighbors, are right now enjoying the pleasures of this only modern form of cooking. You too will come to it eventually—why not now?

Owners Asked To Confine Dogs

WESTERNPORT—An appeal to dog owners to keep their animals from destroying gardens was voiced last night by Constable John Hanna, who said several gardens in the town have been wrecked by dogs in the past few weeks.

Hanna said dogs should be kept tied or otherwise confined to their property and should not be allowed to run loose.

The constable declared the owner of a dog that destroys property is liable for the damage caused.

"We don't want to be hard or unreasonable about this," Hanna said, "but a lot of damage has been done by dogs recently and something will have to be done about it. For that reason we ask that owners keep track of their dogs."

The farm women's club will attend church in a group during National Home Demonstration Week and will show a project exhibit during the week.

Members of the club have planted 50 Chinese chestnut trees as a part of the program to re-establish chestnuts in West Virginia.

One out of four blind adults who lost his sight from cataracts, might have been saved, according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE M. ADAMS

Snappers

We folks, when all is said and done, are many of us impatient, inconsiderate examples of the human race. When we are not pleased, or when we are opposed, we snap back! Like the little child who stamps its feet when it doesn't get its own way.

Who hasn't witnessed a person in a telephone booth, or out of one, abusing the instrument because the number wanted isn't gotten immediately? Maybe the instrument wasn't to blame. Maybe the telephone girl was overloaded with calls at the moment. No matter — snap, snap, snap goes the tongue, and frayed goes the temper!

We meet these snappers everywhere and all through life. We do, or say, something — and lo and behold the snapper gets busy. Why did we do thus and so, or why didn't we think before such an idea? Thus it goes. It may occur in business, in a public place, or in fact anywhere. These snappers must carry a keg of indigo always with them!

I am no psychologist, but I venture to state that the snapper must have a disorganized brain, and something ought to be done about it. It is not a healthy state in which to go on through life. In time the nervous system, or the mechanism of the brain itself, may revolt. The snapper habit is not one that leads to peace of mind.

When in college I was night clerk at a hotel, with my roommate, for which we received our meals and nothing more. My employer was a woman who was a snapper de luxe. Nothing ever pleased her. Everyone seemed to be in awe of her. One day we heard the fire alarm. The engines steered in the direction of our meal ticket. We ran to the scene. Sure enough, our hotel was on fire, and we watched it burn to the ground. No lives were lost, however, and I have never heard of that snapper lady since!

How great is that one who has gained serenity of spirit — who has learned to control his tongue and his temper, who has the character to rise above impetuosity — who never snaps back at a friend or foe. The Bible speaks of such a one as being "greater than he that taketh a city."

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The Russians claim all our inventions so we'll give them some they haven't even mentioned. They can have the mustache cup, the parking meter, the straw hat, the cafeteria platter and the porch rocker.

• — • — •

If the Russians invented everything it's strange they still buy 'em over here. However, we will give them the discovery of electricity. We never did feel right about Ben Franklin flying kites at the age of forty-eight. And he still hasn't explained to Mrs. Franklin whose latch-key that was.

• — • — •

Stalin is just giving those Russians some of the old confeedience. If you tell a mule often enough that he is a race hoss he will not run any faster. And his harness will chafe him more than ever.

The scissor-tailed flycatcher is a beautiful bird of southwestern United States. It is remarkable for its long outer, dark-tipped tail feathers, which, in flight, open and shut like a pair of scissors.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 28—(INS)—MGM is certainly giving Van Johnson 57 varieties of roles. In "Scene Of the Crime," "Please Believe Me" and "Good Old Summertime," he plays a detective, lawyer and lover, respectively. Now, our boy, Van, goes cowboy!

Mae Murray

He is going to whoop it up louder than Roy Rogers or Gene Autry in "Outriders," an original story and script by Irving Ravetch. I am told it has more romance than the average western because Van's fans, unlike Roy's and Gene's, expect a little smooching from him.

Richard Goldstone is the producer, his first picture for MGM since moving from RKO.

• — • — •

Acquanetta, who was with Universal before she married a rich man, Ludwig Baschuk, in Mexico City, is warming up for a movie career again.

She was tested last Wednesday for the role of the Indian girl in "Beyond The Forest," now called "Rose Moline," next up for Bette Davis and Joseph Cotten, with King Vidor directing.

Bette, who gets back this weekend, has certainly been social in New York. She had a big soiree following her husband William Grant Sherry's art exhibit. She lunched and dined frequently at the Stork Club and "21."

• — • — •

I had dinner with Joan Blondell before she left for home. Two of our top producers stopped at the table to ask her why she doesn't do a picture. "We miss you," they said.

Joan said, "You know, I think I will do a picture. Mike told me after I finished the house he didn't care if I wanted to work. I've worked all my life and I miss it."

Joan said Mike's next venture in the theater is "My Darling Aida," with some of the beautiful music from the opera, "Aida."

"Oh, dear, maybe I shouldn't tell," she said.

Her conservation is one-half Mike and the other half her two children.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Mae Murray and Jack Dempsey lunching together attracted much attention at the Vine Street Brown Derby.

Charles Ruggles almost got arrested in Germany when he was there entertaining our GI's with Venessa Brown, Constance Bennett and Donald Wood. He was caught snapping pictures too near the Russian sector.

Charles says that Wesley, his brother, who broke his leg in a skiing accident, is much better and is getting ready to direct a picture in France.

All his life, says Maury King, he's been chasing chicks, and he finally caught one. He was with Nancy Chick at Charley Foy's.

Ann Blyth was invited by the local Irish leaders to pose with the first flags of the new Irish Free State, and you can bet your life she did it.

Betty Hall, former Goldwyn girl, and Jerry Ceflin, song writer, were married last Sunday.

Helen McSweeney, who was Howard Hawks' secretary for so long, and who is now married to Harold Ayres, will welcome an addition to the family in August.

Frank Sinatra has been undergoing extensive X-ray examinations for the past ten days to determine the cause of severe headaches.

Jane Wyman sails May 5 on the Queen Mary for England. She left tonight on the Superchief, after a hectic day of photographs for "The Octopus and Miss Smith," and approving sketches for the costumes for "Glass Menagerie," which she will make when she returns.

Gladys George has been offered the role of Amelia in "Othello" by Orson Welles, but she won't accept until she's sure the do-re-mi is forthcoming. Can you blame her?

Andre Cayette, French producer, is making a picture in France based on the life of Count Folke Bernadotte, the peace emissary who was assassinated in th Holy Land when he was trying to straighten out political trouble.

That's all today.

BOBBY-SOX COURAGE—Undaunted by the loss of a leg, Susan Omisky, 15, of Chicago, smiles brightly as she practices dancing with the use of an artificial limb. Her partner is Ed Yalowitz. The youthful bobby-soxer won national acclaim for her courage last year when she lost her leg in a rail mishap. She follows a normal life now.

Elk Garden Man Jailed On Truancy Charge

KEYSER, W. Va.—Robert Smith, Elk Garden, was committed to Mineral County Jail for five days when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle on a truancy charge Wednesday evening.

Smith, charged with failing to send his 12-year-old son to school, was ordered by Justice Bazzle to pay the costs of the hearing or be sentenced to jail for five days. The jail sentence was imposed, Justice Bazzle explained, because it was the second truancy charge made against Smith this year.

Also appearing on a truancy charge was Mary Doman, of 121 North Water Street, Keyser, who paid costs of $4.50 after pleading guilty to failing to send her child to school.

Testimonial Dinner Honors W. Lee Elgin

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—Political and civic leaders from all sections of the state attended a testimonial dinner tonight in honor of W. Lee Elgin, who will complete his services as commissioner of motor vehicles on Saturday.

Former Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, of Baltimore, was toastmaster. Greetings were extended by Mayor D'Alesandro. About 300 persons were in attendance.

Named Superintendent

CLEVELAND, April 28 (AP)— Harold L. Beattie, who has served as vice president of northern West Virginia and Maryland operations for the Davis Coal and Coke Company, was named a general superintendent of the Warner Collieries Company today. He will be in charge of the firm's mountain state properties at Mammoth in Kanawha County.

VISITING SAILORS ENTERTAINED—More than 600 visiting sailors are entertained at Los Angeles aboard the Canadian cruiser Ontario by a group of Hollywood motion picture stars headed by Betty Hutton, shown surrounded by some of the sailors, and Eddie Bracken.

In some North Carolina counties, over 70 per cent of the farm income is represented in products raised and used by the farm household.

About 10 per cent of the Yugoslav army is composed of women.

Nation's Chief

Austin said, however, that "the balance is swinging toward the forces favoring peaceful progress." He added that realization of this fact is reaching into "the isolation which the ruling class of the Soviet Union has created for itself behind the walls of the Kremlin."

3. An Associated Press dispatch from Moscow said diplomats there considered Russia and the Western Powers have made a start toward a new stage of mutual relations in their negotiations over Berlin.

4. A new incident in Berlin added fresh strain to the delicate East-West relations as the Russians threatened to halt barge traffic from the British sector. Both the Russians and British posted armed guards at three canal locks awaiting a dawn showdown when the barges are due to start moving again. The Russian guards were under orders not to allow any vessels through which do not have Soviet registry.

5. British and French officials in Berlin joined with Americans in protesting scheduled air-to-ground firing by Soviet fighter planes in the airlift corridor.

Murder Mystery And Love Story On Radio Lists

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 28 — Agnes Moorehead, a specialist in radio roles, gets back to the microphone Friday night for the Playhouse time on CBS at 10. Remembered for her numerous portrayals of "Sorry, Wrong Number" in Suspense, this time she will give her attention to "The Diary of Sophronia Winters". A murder mystery is involved in this one, too.

Another of the broadcasts on behalf of the American Cancer Society fund will take the form of "The Story of Cancer Research" on MBS at 9. The drama will include Melvyn Douglas.

Fredric March gets the assignment in the hour Friday Theater on CBS at 9. He will act in "Intermezzo," the love story of a concert violinist and his accompanist.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

"Suspense" (C. B. S. 9 p. m. EDT, Thursdays), a program which has one of the most devoted as well as one of the largest audiences in radio—it lands fairly consistently among radio's hallowed Top Fifteen — has been rewarding the faithful by casting its shows with many of Hollywood's greatest names, some of whom can even act.

John Crosby

You're likely to find almost anyone on "Suspense" these days — Bob Hope, Ronald Coleman, Mickey Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. James Mason (of course, you run into the Masons almost everywhere on the air nowadays) or Betty Grable. Offhand, I can't think of anyone less appropriate for a program like "Suspense" than Miss Grable whose talents appeal rather more to the eye than to the ear. Even Miss Grable was pretty astounded when producer-director Tony Leader asked her to drop over. "I asked him if he didn't think he'd better write in a song," the actress declared after the memorable occasion.

The song wasn't necessary. Miss Grable played the part of an aging model, no longer beautiful but still magnificently constructed. (It's hard enough to think of Miss Grable as aging and no longer beautiful. To picture her also as unattractively lumpy would be inconceivable.)

As this aging, unhappy model, ridden by a whining invalid mother, speaking a role which was almost a half hour monologue, in a medium where her voice, as it were, had to stand on its own legs, Miss Grable was wonderful. She was surrounded by extremely competent and experienced radio actors and actresses who normally make monkeys of pretty ladies from the films, and the fact she could hold her own in that company was a high accomplishment.

The play itself, something called "The Copper Tea Strainer," fell in the tradition of "Suspense," a tradition that is becoming incerasingly hard to maintain. Veteran listeners to "Suspense" are becoming awfully hard to fool. We know from the beginning that the murder plot is not going to work out, skillful as it sounds; we begin almost immediately to suspect that the kindly old lady who sells violets isn't as innocent as she sounds. We're too darned smart for our own good. I manage to guess the endings fairly accurately about midway through each program and I imagine I'm not alone in this regard.

Our regretable skill at prophecy is probably one reason why the program is now bolstered with a great galaxy of Hollywood stars. It doesn't matter so much if you know what's going to happen so long as it happens to Bob Hope. The principal aim of "Suspense", far as I can see, is to scare the daylights out of the listeners; it's not the most worthy aim in radio and, when it fails even its own limited objectives, steps must be taken. Hence, Betty Grable.

Still, this show to my amateur ears offers one of the best acting, directing and production jobs in radio. Its O. Henry-like stories are somewhat out-of-date in our skeptical times but the technique used by the writers are daring, original and monstrously ingenious, and could, I think, be studied with profit by writers with more worthwhile themes to write about.

Incidentally, "Suspense," an entirely new and separate operation, is now on television, not altogether successfully. It's hard enough to keep us wise guys mystified on the radio; in television where you can see the nervous twitch in the murderer's face, it's almost impossible. Consequently, the televised "Suspense" has been driven to fantastic degrees of mysteriousness. On a recent show, "The Creeper," the identity of the killer was kept secret so skillfully that no one knew who he was when the play ended. Naturally, this is taking mystery too far. CBS was inundated with so many phone calls that the network had to flash a bulletin at 10:30 that night which explained that the murderer was the locksmith. (He'd been identified in the play only as an offstage voice, for heaven's sake.)

Telephone calls were still pouring in on CBS at 4:30 the next afternoon. In spite of its early blunders, "Suspense" now has the highest Hooperating of any dramatic show in television and we'll have to go into it in more detail some time. I'm saddened though, that it's doing so well.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

$7,651 In Navy Pay Sets Record Here

Pay checks totaling $7,651 were distributed to Cumberland's 200 Naval Reservists Wednesday night at the Training Center on McKaig's Hill.

Lt. Comdr, Edwin R. Edwards, commanding officer, said this pay day was the largest ever held by the Navy here. He attributed the increase to several factors, including many advancements in rate and recently authorized pay for longevity.

A survey of the payroll reveals that the average chief petty officer received $75 and the average seaman recruit $32.50. This amount is based on 26 hours of drilling.

Under new regulations, payments were made only to men who are in Navy uniforms.

Permit Sought For Repair Shop

Anthony A. Scaletta, 114 Independence Street, has filed an appeal with the Board of Zoning Appeals for a permit to locate a furniture and electric repair shop in a first floor room at 620 Columbia Avenue.

The application was referred to the board by City Engineer Ralph L Rizer because the building, owned by John M. Perdew, 232 Glenn Street, is located in a Residential B zoning district.

The premises were formerly occupied by the Kalamazoo Stove Company.

Edwin J. Rice, 513 Shriver Avenue, secured a permit to build a two-story brick residence in Lots 17 and 18, Lowell Avenue, at an estimated cost of $6,000.

A permit was granted to Fred Smith, 459 Columbia Street, to enclose a second-story porch at his home.

Marsh And Curry Top St. Mary's Fight Card May 9

Golden Gloves Finalists Meet In 5-Round Go

Uniontown Fighter Hopeful Of Avenging Pittsburgh Setback

Amateur boxing returns to Cumberland on Monday, May 9, when St. Mary's Boys' Club will present its eleventh show at the State Armory, Matchmaker Albert "Bobby" Green announced last night.

The card will be topped by a five-round match between Eddie Marsh, of Windber, Pa., Pittsburgh Golden Gloves champion, who will be fighting here as a lightweight, and Arnold Curry of Uniontown, Pa.

Marsh won a hairline decision over Curry in the Golden Gloves finals and the Uniontown battler believes he can turn the tables in a return match here.

The clever Marsh has appeared here on numerous occasions and has always given a good performance. He has whipped Jimmie Catanese four times, decisioned Jim Folk and gained the nod over Frankie Lisanti in the first show held here by St. Mary's two years ago.

Matchmaker Green stated that Joe Ricchezzo, Uniontown featherweight, will meet Jimmie Catanese in one of the three-round prelims.

Uniontown boxers recently won two out of three matches from local amateurs in a show at Fairmont. The Pennsylvania boys are handled by John A. Kacur.

Green hopes to line up a program of seven of eight bouts for his show.

St. Mary's last show was held on February 14 and attracted 1,037 paying patrons.

The amateurs have been inactive here since March 21, the final night of the South Atlantic A. A. tournament at the armory.

Moorefield Tops Charles Town In Close Game, 3-2

Fitzwater Is Victor, Two Runs In 6th Win

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., April 28—Johnny Fitzwater retired 17 consecutive batsmen in order between the 1st and 7th innings today and gained a 3-2 decision over Walters when a two-run rally in the 6th inning enabled Moorefield High School to nose out Charles Town High School of Jefferson County.

Charles Town held a 2-1 lead going into the home half of the sixth when Jimmie Wilson led off with a single. Fitzwater walked. When Walters attempted to pick Wilson off second he threw the ball into centerfield and both runners advanced a base. George Fisher singled home Wilson with the tying run. Hott grounded to R. Russell who cut down Fitzwater at the plate. Then Harold Ours, pinch-hitting for Whetzel, rapped a hit over third which scored Fisher with what proved to be the deciding marker.

Charles Town scored both its runs in the first inning. Sager got a life on Wilson's error and after A. Russell sacrificed, Boyd batted in the first marker with a double and Whittington's single scored Boyd.

Fitzwater pitched shutout ball thereafter and struck out six batsmen. He failed to issue a walk and limited the visitors to four hits. George Fisher obtained two of the Jackets' six safeties.

The victory gave Moorefield a record of three wins and two defeats. Coach Johnny Paugh's tossers will play at Charles Town on Monday. Box:

Fort Hill Suffers Initial Defeat In Hagerstown, 5-0

Sentinels Limited To Three Safeties By Hubs' Hemphill

Fort Hill High School's Sentinels suffered their first setback of the 1949 baseball season yesterday when they were shut out by Hagerstown High School in Hagerstown by the score of 5-0.

Hemphill, Hagerstown pitcher, limited Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation to three hits—all singles—and struck out five batsmen.

Hagerstown put the game on ice in the first frame by scoring three runs. Beck walked Diseati and West and the former came home on Byers' single. West, however, was caught at the plate when he also attempted to score. A wild throw to first base by Birmingham enabled Byers to cross the platter. Shank drew a pass, moved to second on Barnhart's out and scored on Ramer's base wallop.

A hit by Burgess, an error by Beck and a fielder's choice gave Hagerstown its fourth run in the 2nd frame. West's single and Barnhart's two-bagger produced the final tally in the 5th. Barnhart attempted to stretch his hit into a triple but Ronnie Cage's fast relay nipped the runner at third base.

Beck went the route for the Sentinels and gave up seven hits. He fanned three and walked four.

Jimmie Eckard porvided the fielding highlight by spearing Hemphill's liner with his gloved hand to double up a runner at second base. Box score:

Australia Gets 1956 Olympic Games, Winter Sports Go To Cortina, Italy

Melbourne Beats Out Buenos Aires, 21-20

ROME, April 28 (INS) — The International Olympic Committee broke precedent today and awarded the 1956 games to Melbourne, Australia.

The decision marked the first time since the modern Olympics were revived in Athens in 1896 that Australia was designated as a site.

The committee's action came as a shock to Detroit and five other American cities which had been bidding for the 1956 games. Boosters of these cities had been so sure that an American site would be selected that they had attempted to have the field narrowed down to American cities.

Detroit was the most disappointed of the American bidders. The American olympic committee had gone all out for the motor city as its preferred site in the event that an American locale was favored by the I. O. C.

Detroit's backers failed even though the city's mayor was on the scene and they had the approval of President Truman. Melbourne won the award by a single vote, 21 to 20, with Buenos Aires in second place.

The city of Cortina, Italy, was awarded the 1956 Winter Olympics. Cortina and Melbourne are approximately 12,000 miles apart. This geographical span between summer and winter championships is unapproached in the history of the games.

The cost of transportation to the 1956 summer games will be tremendous. The average athlete will be required to travel about 10,000 miles to reach Melbourne.

A comparable difficulty had been anticipated with the award of the 1940 games to Tokyo, but Japan lost this award by precipitating its war with China.

Helsinki, Finland, then was selected to replace Tokyo, but World War 2 cancelled the entire program. In consequence, Helsinki later was picked as the host city for the 1952 games.

Durocher Charged With Kicking Negro Boy Who Rode Him

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—An attorney said tonight Leo Durocher, fiery manager of the New York Giants, "kicked and scuffed" a 22-year-old negro boy after the game at the Polo Grounds today.

Leo Durocher

Samuel S. Reinish told a reporter the youth, whom he identified as Fred Boysen, 22, of Brooklyn, was being treated at a Brooklyn hospital for his injuries.

The lawyer added he planned to file assault and battery charges against the Giant manager.

Renish said Boysen was attacked by Durocher as Boysen sped out on the field after the game in pursuit of "one of his heroes," Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson.

Durocher acknowledged there was an altercation after the game, won by Brooklyn, 15-2, but he said it wasn't serious.

Boysen was admitted as a patient at Sydenham Hospital, Brooklyn, for treatment for bruises of the abdomen.

Renish said:

"Boysen had been riding Leo during the game. He went out on the field after the game, chasing Robinson, one of his heroes. Leo came after him, hit him from behind, then threw him to the ground, kicked him and beat him and gave him a scuffing."

Durocher commented on the incident later at a routine press conference.

Old Rockport Is 4th In Blue Grass Stakes

By JOSEPH RAITI

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 28 (INS)—Royce G. Martin's Halt, longest-priced horse in the field of four, won the Blue Grass Stakes today while Clifford Mooers' heavy-favored old Rockport ran last.

Halt nosed out John's Joy and Wine List to win this $20,000-added "indicator" for the Kentucky Derby May 7.

The winner paid $15.40 to win and $5.20 to place and John's Joy returned $4.20. There was no show betting on this getaway-day feature at Keeneland today.

Halt's time over the one and one-eighth mile distance was 1:52 3-5, over a good track.

Old Rockport, winner of the Santa Anita Derby and second-favored to Olympia in pre-Kentucky Derby odds, got off to a bad start when he was bumped coming out of the gate.

J. A. Kinard's John's Joy moved into the number one spot at the quarter-mile post with Wine List, Halt and Old Rockport trailing in that order.

The four horses maintained their positions until the three-quarter mark, with John's Joy lengthening his lead slightly. Halt began to move as they approached the last turn, but Wine List came out of the turn in front.

The Greentree Colt could not last, however. Halt, closing rapidly in the home stretch, barely managed to nose out John's Joy in a photo finish, with Wine List a length behind, a neck in front of Old Rockport.

Bruce Alumni Plan Program For Anniversary

Three-Day Event Set In June

WESTERNPORT—Plans for the 50th anniversary of the Bruce High School Alumni Association are nearing the final stages. The celebration will cover a three-day period, June 10 through 12.

Each member has been asked to contribute toward making the affair the most outstanding in the history of the school.

A souvenir program is planned, containing a history of the group from its inception to the present time. Mrs. Anna Bruce Dellinger and Mrs. Edna Bruce Davis comprise the history committee, and Ray L. Wilt is in charge of the printing.

On Friday, June 10, at 6 p. m. the annual banquet will be served in the high school auditorium by the Hammond Street Parent-Teacher Association. This will be followed by the meeting and election of officers.

Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., Cumberland, will serve as toastmaster. Welcome to the incoming graduates will be made by Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., one of the charter members of the association.

V. Brown Kooken will preside at the brief business session. After the banquet a dance will be held with music by the Cavalier's Orchestra of Cumberland.

On Saturday, June 11, from noon to 1 p. m. luncheon will be served at the Hammond Street School. An afternoon program has been arranged for the graduates of the Westernport High School and the classes preceding removal of the High School to the present Bruce Memorial High School.

Mrs. Robert Derham is in charge of this portion of the program under the leadership of Miss Nellie Dowling, principal of the Hammond Street School, who serves as general chairman.

The classes that have graduated from Bruce are planning entertainment for the same period with Victor Kalbaugh, Jr., as general chairman. Former faculty members will be invited and all graduates will be given an opportunity to visit their former teachers.

At 7:15 p. m. a concert will be presented by the Bruce High School Band under the direction of Herman Dash, music instructor.

At 8 p. m. a program and reception for alumni members and their guests will be presented in the auditorium. This will feature a fashion show of graduation gowns from 1899 to the present. Special music will be given under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Ferrell and Mrs. Evelyn Malcolm.

Highlight of the program will be the presentation of engraved certificates to the charter members and the first graduating class. The Saturday evening affair will conclude with dancing in the auditorium.

On Sunday, June 12, a memorial service will be held at the high school. Plans for this portion of the program will be announced at a later date. The graves of alumni members will be decorated by class representatives, with Harry J. Biggs serving as chairman.

Many out of town members are expected to return here for the occasion.

Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, chairman of the finance committee, urges all members to make their contributions to their class committee or to him.

Public officials, the Board of Education and the faculties of the local schools will be invited to participate.

Schools Adjust Time Schedules

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—Meyersdale Borough, Garrett Borough and Summit Township Schools advanced their schedule one hour starting Wednesday morning, April 27. While the schools will maintain Standard Time the advanced schedule will conform with fast time.

This action came about following a Monday night board meeting in Meyersdale. Opponents of fast time claim it is illegal, have circulated petitions in the community.

However, Burgess Leckemby has asked co-operation of individuals and business establishments in going on fast time. This action was deemed necessary when neighboring communities advanced their clocks.

In an attempt to encourage local housewives to shop early the Acme Supermarket will remain open each Friday evening until 9 D.S.T. The new store hours will go in effect tonight to relieve congestion of Saturday shopping.

Keyser Stores, Offices To Go On Fast Time

Action Will Take Effect Monday

KEYSER, W. Va.—Most of the business places and offices of Keyser will go on Daylight Saving Time as of Monday morning, according to the results of a poll taken by the Chamber of Cemmerce this week.

Of the merchants and professional men in Keyser contacted, 117 signed for DST while 14 signed opposing DST. Sixteen places contacted refused to sign either for or against DST but most of them indicated they would go along with the majority, according to Harry Oss, chairman of the canvassing committee.

Haven L. Idleman, superintendent of Mineral County Schools, said the schools would not adopt fast time pending action of the Mineral County Board of Education at a meeting Monday night.

Two of the schools in the county, Ridgeley and Piedmont, are observing fast time now, Idleman stated, adding that there is some opposition to DST in the rural areas.

The agreement to go on DST if 75 per cent of those contacted approved, was reached at a meeting of members of the Chamber of Commerce this week.

The Chamber called the meeting at the request of several members when the Mayor and Council kept the town on slow time when a Daylight Saving Time motion was not seconded.

Blind Students To Present Play

On May 5, 6, and 7, the Dramatic Club of The Maryland School for the Blind is presenting "Apple of His Eye" by Kenyon Nicholson and Charles Robinson in Newcomer Hall at the school.

Dramatics is a field in which blind people can do well. It is of great value to them in developing poise, ease of movement, and grace. These pupils also learn that diction and enunciation are of great value.

The pupils will have rehearsed for over two months on the stage. In this way they become thoroughly familiar with the set and can avoid any unpleasant accidents. They move on the stage as easily as seeing people and many times the audience will wonder if these young actors are actually blind.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Harry Young, Miss Beatrix Baird and Mr. James Emerson.

The pupils taking part in it are: Christina Baugh, Milton Anderson, Lois Parthree, Edward Walker, Eugene Spurrier, Susye Mezick, Thelma Hassett, John Couch, Francis Thomas, Clara Bowie and James Anderson.

The money realized from the play will be used by the dramatic club to buy school equipment. The school is located on Taylor Avenue in Overlea.

Her mother, Jessie Kalbaugh

KALBAUGH—A tribute of love to our dear mother, Flora Mae Kalbaugh, who departed this life one year ago, April 29, 1948.
We do not forget you, nor do we intend,
We think of you often, and will to the end;
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory you ever will be.
Daughter & Sons

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy during the illness and following the death of our husband and father, John F. Byrnes. We also thank Rev. Charles W. Bogan, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars.
Wife and Children.

In expressing our sincere thanks to our friends, relatives and neighbors who were so kind to us in our recent bereavement, in the death of our beloved husband and father, John Vincent Yarnall. We especially want to thank those who sent floral tributes and for the use of cars at the funeral.
The Family.

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our sudden bereavement, the death of our brother, William M. Patton. We also wish to thank Rev. C. H. Goshorn, the choir of the First Presbyterian Church, Lonaconing, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars.

Liquor Board To Probe Club License Holders

Applicants for liquor licenses were informed yesterday morning at the Court House that the Allegany County Liquor Control Board will investigate the operation of club licenses to determine if the holders are bona fide clubs.

Walter C. Capper, board chairman, read a prepared statement to the applicants in which he said there are 60 Class C club licenses, adding that there is nothing in the law to prevent the reduction of this number.

Under the law, Capper said, a club is an association or corporation formed exclusively for educational, social, fraternal, patriotic, political or athletic purposes and not for profit.

In Allegany County, he declared, the Board is the judge of whether a club is operating in "good faith" within the meaning of the law.

"The board believes that some licenses have been obtained in the name of clubs, which, if the good faith of their formation could be investigated and tested by the definition in the law, could not qualify," he added.

"This board proposes to make such investigations in the near future and some of the clubs may be notified to have representatives appear before the board and produce the club books and accounts, membership lists and be called upon to justify their right to conduct business as a club.

"In connection with this announcement, it should be understood that to call the organization a social, fraternal, patriotic, political or athletic club will avail nothing provided as a matter of fact that the club is not such and provided it is operated for profit, Capper continued.

"An inquiry of this nature is somewhat special and separate and distinct from investigation of any violations of the laws in reference to sale to non-members, after hours and permitting gambling.

"These violations will be primarily a matter for the board to ascertain and handle in the proper proceedings.

"In conclusion, the board wishes to emphasize that the board does not make the law. Any of its illogical or impracticable provisions, some of which we recognize, may be corrected by appeal to the Maryland legislature. In the meantime, we will seek to carry out and enforce the law as we find it, to the best of our judgment."

Celanese Honors 3 25-Year Employes

The Celanese Corporation of America yesterday honored three employes of the local plant at Amcelle on their completion of 25 years of service.

They are Edward N. Deffenbaugh, Mt. Savage, John H. Horchler, 634 Columbia Avenue, and Alex Struntz, Cresaptown. Harrison C. Givens, plant manager, presented Deffenbaugh with a pocket watch and gave wrist watches to the others.

Deffenbaugh, a native of Frostburg, served his apprenticeship as a pipefitter at the Mt. Savage shops of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad shops. Before going to work at Celanese April 28, 1924, he worked for the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company for a year. He is now senior foreman of the Department 10 workshop.

Horchler, born in Cumberland, served his apprenticeship as a millwright at the Georges Creek and Cumberland Railroad. He worked for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as a roundhouse foreman for two years and then went to the Western Maryland Railway for 15 years before going to Celanese April 28, 1924. He is now foreman of the refrigeration department at the plant.

Struntz, a native of Frostburg, served his apprenticeship as a carpenter for the Consolidation Coal Company. He worked two years at the Standard Tool Company, Cleveland, before coming to Celanese April 28, 1924. He is now supervisor of the carpenter shop.

All were presented 25-year pins and certificates by William J. Elvin, plant engineer.

Market Put On Defensive As Trading Volume Drops

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP) — Languid selling was enough to put the stock market on the defensive today.

Business slowed to 770,000 shares from 830,000 yesterday. Market strategists usually regard a contraction in trading volume during a declining market as a sign there is no severe selling pressure hanging over the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .2 of one point to 62.9. The industrial component showed the widest loss, followed by the rail and utility groups.

Only 950 issues changed hands, of which 516 lost ground and 228 advanced.

United States Steel finished three-fourths lower at 72⅜, Republic lost one-half at 22⅛ Youngstown Sheet 1¼ at 63¼, and Follansbee one at 15⅝.

Bethlehem Steel remained at 30 as traders awaited results of the directors' meeting.

Also lower were Chrysler, Studebaker, Firestone, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas Aircraft, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Pepsi-Cola, Western Union, Phelps Dodge, American Can, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, Radio Corporation, International Paper, Southern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Illinois Central, Richfield Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), Mission Corporation and United Air Lines.

Among a hand-picked group in the plus column were Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, Goodyear, Graham-Paige, Oliver Corporation, National Distillers, Consolidated Edison, Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott Copper, Union Carbide, Owens-Illinois, Northern Pacific, and Maracaibo Oil.

The recent price recovery in the bond market was squelched under the impact of modest profit taking.

As prices sagged, volume of trading expanded to $3,245,000, compared with $2,460,000 yesterday.

United States government bonds softened for the second straight day, a majority of the long term issues losing 1-32 to 2-32. The bank eligible 2½s of September, 1972-67, were off 2-32 at 103 5-32.

Potomac Edison Promotes Four Cumberland Men

Advancements Go Into Effect May 1

The promotion of four Cumberland men by the Potomac Edison Company were announced yesterday by Henry W. Price, district manager of the company. The advancements become effective May 1.

The four men are Harry G. Grimes, Arthur M. Bittner, Charles H. Linaburg and Joseph B. Decker. Linaburg and Decker are presently employed in the local terminal of the Blue Ridge Transportation Company.

Grimes, an employe in the electrical operations department since 1926, and Bittner, who has worked in the intra-city transportation department since 1918, will become heads of their respective departments.

Both positions have been held by Walter T. Kline, who worked under the title of district operations manager, until his advancement to manager of PE's Frostburg office last week. He succeeded the late J. M. Stewart.

Three Worked On Transportation

Linaburg, present Cumberland supervisor of the Blue Ridge Transportation Company, succeeds Bittner as supervisor of transportation of the Potomac Edison bus line which operates in the city, and Decker takes over Linaburg's duties with the Blue Ridge Lines.

With the exception of Grimes who began his service with PE in the Cumberland power plant, all of the men started working with the company on the intra-city transportation line.

Bittner, who has held his present position of supervisor of transportation since 1941, recalled briefly the street cars that ceased operation in the middle of the 1920's. He worked both as a motorman and conductor on the trolley line.

In 1936 Bittner became a street dispatcher in the city which was then long adjusted to bus service. He continued as dispatcher until 1941 when he was promoted to the present position.

Grimes remained in the power plant until 1935 when he was transferred to the line department as a lineman. In 1942 he became assistant line superintendent and then in 1945 was made line superintendent.

Started As Drivers

Both Linaburg and Decker started out with PE as bus drivers on the city line, Linaburg in 1934 and Decker in 1933. The two men operated Blue Ridge buses for a short time before being assigned to the local ticket office of the inter-state lines.

Kline, who came to Cumberland in 1946 entered service with the company in 1927 when he was hired as a district engineer at Frederick. He later served in Hagerstown and Martinsburg, W. Va., before being promoted to manager of PE's Valley District in 1937.

Promoted By Potomac Edison Company

Henry W. Price, district manager of the Potomac Edison Company, yesterday announced the promotion of four men in the Cumberland district and said the advancements would become effective May 1. They are (seated, left to right) Arthur M. Bittner and Charles H. Linaburg; (standing) Joseph B. Decker and Harry G. Grimes. Bittner becomes head of PE's city transportation, Grimes head of the electrical operations department, with Linaburg succeeding Bittner as supervisor of city transportation and Decker taking over Linaburg's job as Cumberland supervisor of the Blue Ridge Transportation Company.

Mayor Proclaims Sunday Annual Clean-Up Day

Volunteers Will Collect Trash

Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday signed a proclamation designating Sunday as official opening day of the Jaycee sponsored Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up campaign.

Calling on all residents, business firms, clubs, schools and churches to join in the effort to make the city a cleaner place in which to live, Mayor Post proclaimed:

"The general health and welfare of our citizens depend upon wholesome surroundings arising from good clean living conditions. The lives and property of our people are endangered by fire caused by the cluttered conditions of homes, factories, alleys, streets and ill-kept yards.

"Unity of effort is required for the future development of our community."

Mayor Post then designated Sunday, May 1, as the official trash day and requests that all people living in the city place their trash and rubbish collections on the curbs, well in advance of 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, when a fleet of 15 trucks will begin the job of hauling to the dump.

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce Clean-Up Committee under the chairmanship of William Scott has enlisted a corps of volunteers and trucks for the task. Magazines, newspapers, trash, brush, and all odds and ends usually assembled at house cleaning time, will be hauled away free.

The trucks will make one trip only over each street in the city. If trash is not on the curbs when the drive starts Sunday morning, it will not be picked up.

During the week following, residents are urged to clean up around their premises and make their properties and yards as sanitary and attractive as possible within their means and ability.

Peter D. Cooper Will Join Celanese Executive Staff

Peter D. Cooper, vice president of the Celanese Corporation of America and manager of the acetate rayon plant near Narrows, Va., will be transferred to the New York executive office on May 1 to assume new duties, it was announced yesterday.

Cooper, who joined the company in 1924, will be generally responsible for overall plant operating efficiencies and the economic planning of production at all of the company's plants.

Simultaneously, it was announced that Samuel A. Mansfield, assistant manager, will become plant manager of the Narrows operation succeeding Cooper.

Cooper, who is well known in Cumberland, is a native of Scotland. He joined the American Celanese firm in 1924, coming to the Amcelle plant that year as cost accountant.

After five years of service here, he was transferred to the New York office as accountant and about five years later returned to Amcelle as chief accountant of the plant.

In 1939 he was transferred to Narrows to become manager of the Celco plant. He became a vice president of the firm several years ago.

While in Cumberland, Cooper was active in community affairs and was an active member of the Cumberland Rotary Club.

Plans Underway For Opening Of City Playgrounds

Park, Recreation Boards To Meet

With the approach of the summer playground season, city officials are making plans to consider necessary personnel appointments.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday that a meeting has been scheduled next Tuesday evening at 7:30 at City Hall to reactivate the former Recreation Board.

Mayor Post pointed out that the Mayor and Council has approved a proposal from various groups for employing a recreation director. The reactivated board would screen applicants.

Former board membership included Charles L. Kopp, John J. Long, J. Suter Kegg, Mrs. C. Erich Roeder, Clifton Van Roby, John J. Spiker and Clair Mease.

Meanwhile, Mayor Post said the City Park Board plans to meet in the next week or two to discuss appointments of play instructors at the 13 city playgrounds for the coming season.

Mrs. Findlay Reappointed

Mrs. Marguerite Findlay was reappointed to the board for the 1949 season at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday. The board consists of Mayor Post, Mrs. Findlay, and Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds.

A check at the office of Commissioner Reynolds revealed that 30 persons have applied for posts as play instructors this summer.

Twelve of that number served last year. Unless other playgrounds are designated before the season opens June 20, only 25 play instructors will be appointed. Two are named to each playground except for Pine Avenue, which has only one person on duty.

No action has been taken to date on setting up additional playgrounds. Two possible locations which have been discussed are another playground for colored children at the Carver School grounds, and a playground in the Patterson Avenue section.

To Name Pool Manager

Also on the agenda of the Park Board is the appointment of a playground supervisor and a manager of the Constitution Park swimming pool, Mayor Post said.

The mayor urged all prospective play instructors, as well as other interested persons, to attend a playground leaders training institute to be held Monday through Friday of next week at Central YMCA.

The evening sessions from 7 to 10 will be conducted by Mrs. Ruth Garber Ehlers, a member of the staff of the National Recreation Association, New York City.

The institute is sponsored by the adult education department of the Board of Education at the request of the City Playground Association, city officials and other groups interested in recreation.

Tentative dates for the playground season are June 20 through August 26.

Restaurants To Be Graded Soon

Eating and drinking establishments in Cumberland will be graded by Health Department sanitary inspectors, starting next week. Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, announced yesterday.

Over 200 establishments will be graded. Those meeting all requirements of the city health ordinance will receive a Grade A rating.

Those which fail to meet some of the sanitary requirements will be put in a Grade B rating, while the remainder will be graded as Class C and will be forced to close until necessary improvements are made, Dr. Frantz said.

Dr. Frantz said local residents can co-operate by insisting that proprietors display the rating cards conspicuously.

About half of Cumberland's population eats one or more meals daily in a restaurant, Dr. Frantz said, adding:

"Make sure the restaurant is a Grade A place."

Miss Cumberland Entries Sought

An appeal for entries and sponsors of entries for the Miss Cumberland Junior Association of Commailed to a number of local clubs, organizations etc., by the Cumberland Junior Association or Commerce pageant committee.

The winner of the local contest will compete at Hagerstown with other Maryland girls for the title of "Miss Maryland."

Trial Postponed In Traffic Death

A preliminary hearing for Ral Oswald, Oswego, N. Y., on a manslaughter charge in connection with the traffic death of an Arthur, W. Va., woman was postponed in Miami, Fla., yesterday.

Oswald is accused of driving the car which struck and fatally injured Miss Margaret Veach, 22, Arthur, March 22.

The youth was returned to Miami to stand trial after a fugitive warrant was sent to Oswego authorities. He is at liberty under $2,500 bond.

Peace Justice Edwin L. Mason postponed the case when his clerk reported subpeonas had not been served on five state witnesses.

Miss Veach died in a Miami hospital March 23. She sustained a fractured skull and a compound fracture of the left leg.

A companion, Miss Martha Sands, Miami, escaped with bruises when the car allegedly swerved to the wrong side of the street and struck the two pedestrians.

Miss Veach, a daughter of Callie V. Veach, Washington, and Mrs. Rosalie V. Veach, Arthur, had been visiting in Miami.

Three Postmasters Are Nominated

Three Allegany County people are included in a list of recommendations for postmaster appointments, it was disclosed in Washington, D. C., yesterday.

President Truman sent a list of nominations to the Senate for confirmation, including Margaret W. Conroy, Barton; Dale N. Broadwater, Cresaptown, and Charles E. Simpkins, Ellerslie.

State Benefits Paid To 32,691

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP) — A total of 32,691 Marylanders received unemployment compensation checks last week, a jump of 9,688 over the previous week.

Chairman Russell S. Davis of the Department of Employment Security said that "apparently the present unemployment situation is something more than a seasonal layoff."

"It has lasted longer and gone deeper," he added. "We do not have the number of job opportunities we had a year ago."

Davis said last week's unemployment compensation total represented a "sudden rise." He said the average for the preceding several weeks had remained "fairly steady."

In another report today, the department noted that the non-agricultural employment in Maryland dropped by 1,700 workers during February and March, a period during which 10,400 persons were added to the payrolls in the previous year.

An average of 688,100 persons were employed in non-agricultural work during the two-month period.

Davis said that the worst spot outside Baltimore City is Cumberland, where 4,671 persons were on the jobless benefit rolls last week, in comparison with 3,693 for the week ended April 16; and 3,120 for the week ended April 9.

He said industry generally is booking orders on a 30 to 60 day basis rather than on the four-to-six months basis customary in the past.

The department also attributed the present employment situation to caution on the part of buyers who hope for price cuts and on a sharp leveling-off of construction activity.

Aldridge Replies To Schusterman

Playford Aldridge, president of Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, reported yesterday that Arthur M. Schusterman, in a statement in yesterday's News, "speaks as an individual and in no way reflects the views or opinions of Local 1874."

Schusterman, he declared, holds no office of any type or kind in the local union. He added:

"The statement that he edited the paper during the strike of 1947 is false. The editing was done by James A. Blackwell.

"Schusterman was not elected as shop chairman in the finished fabrics examination department. He received the job simply because he had no opposition.

"He was repudiated by the membership after he personally brought the issue of signing the non-Communist affidavits to their attention."

Suit was docketed in the office of the clerk of court yesterday for Neal Nesbit against the Cumberland Contracting Company for $15,000 for personal injuries.

According to the declaration filed for Nesbit by Harold E. Naughton, attorney, the plaintiff was driving along McMullen Boulevard, September 2, 1948, at about 12:15 a. m. when his car hit a pile of dirt and rock about three feet high.

Tenant Sues His Landlord

A petition was filed in Circuit Court by Russell Carder against Thomas Neilson in which the court is asked to have Neilson show why he should not sign an application for a beer license for Carder.

In a court order signed by Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., the defendant has until May 5 to answer.

Carder, in his equity suit, explains that on December 6, 1947, Marshall Neilson executed a lease for the premises at Wright's Crossing where he (Carder) operates a grocery store and also has an off-sale beer permit.

Since that date, the store property was acquired by the defendant. Carder avers Thomas Neilson has refused to sign the application for a beer license, unless Carder agrees to a new lease.

Carder contends his present landlord knew of the existing lease agreement and knew as owner of the premises he would be required by law to sign his tenant's application for license.

Carder asks the court to have Neilson show why he should not sign the application and for such other relief as the court may direct.

1949 Sales Outlook Is Reported Good

Businessmen responding to a recent survey indicated they anticipate little change in sales during 1949 from the record of 1948, the Office of Business Economics of the Department of Commerce announced yesterday.

The forecast was received yesterday by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Declines of sales volume of less than one percent from the 1948 level are expected by manufacturing and trade concerns while an advance of nearly four per cent in revenues is anticipated by the electric and gas utilities.

The expectation of relative stability in sales this year generally prevails among most major manufacturing industries, the report states.

The sales outlook in the textiles, apparel and lumber groups, however, is for some decline. A significant increase is anticipated in the automobile field.

Motorists Will Find Wineow Street "Slow"

Motoring on Wineow Street is going to be "a wee bit slow" for the next couple of weeks so police, thinking of the motorist, are recommending Maryland Avenue as the route to be used when going to or coming from South Cumberland.

The traffic obstacle, according to police, is caused by work on the Wineow Street flood control conduit. Work has reached the stage where the street must be torn up.

Authorities explained that conditions will allow only one way traffic with preference going to city buses and trucks because they must follow the route. That means private traffic may have a long wait at times. But the Maryland Avenue lane is wide open.

Persons using the food markets on Wineow Street, police explained, will have no trouble at all in getting there but they will be able to get away much faster by detouring over Orchard Street instead of going down Wineow as is the present practice.

The Weather

Yesterday was one of those days when you didn't know whether to risk going out without a topcoat or not. It was so bright and sunny you were tempted to take a chance, but on the other hand the breeze was a bit nippy. After all, the highest temperature was only 65, so you were quite right in deciding to wear a coat. The low reading was 48 early yesterday morning, and at midnight last night the temperature was a comfortable 53. Today's forecast sounds pretty good—fair weather, with mild temperatures in the afternoon.

Mountain Radio Club To Sponsor Four Transmitter Hunts In 1949

The first of four transmitter hunts to be sponsored this year by the Mountain Radio Club will be held Sunday, May 8.

Eight search teams are expected to participate in the hunt which is a test of the operator's use of radio direction finding equipment.

Teams will meet in Constitution Park May 8 at 1 p. m. to receive directions for the hunt—and the location of the hidden radio set just in case they are unable to get a correct reading.

James Duckworth and Thomas Shuck have been named to hide and operate the transmitter within eight miles of this city.

Teams will meet at the hidden set at 3:30 p. m. for a picnic dinner and a post mortem on operation of direction finders.

Final plans for the hunt were completed at a meeting of the club Friday night at which time J. F. Baker, this city, was received into the club.

Slated for the next meeting May 6 at 7:30 p. m. is the election of a president to succeed L. R. Jenkins, who is resigning due to business duties.

Officials of the club said increased activity is planned on the 160 meter band which became available to amateurs early this month. The frequency, they added, will be especially useful in the Tri-State area.

There is a possibility, the club said, that the Spruce Knob Radio Club, composed of radio amateurs of nearby West Virginia, may join the local club in the American Radio Relay League Field Day contest to be held June 11 and 12.

The club expects to operate 2, 10, 75 and 160 meter sets from Irons Mountain during the contest.
